NAZIS REPORTED STALLED ON WHOLE SOVIET BATTLE FRONT

RED ARMIES SAID TO BE TAKING INITIATIVE ALONG VITAL SECTORS

By the Associated Press

London reports German armies stalled on whole Soviet battlefront, Nazi drive near exhaustion; Moscow says Red Armies taking initiative; Hitler's High Command asserts fighting "continues in our favor;" Harry L. Hopkins sees Stalin, expresses "even more confidence Hitler is going to lose."

Mexico rebukes Germany for "threat" in U. S. blacklist case; Mexican President Avila Camacho clamps down on Nazi-Fascist movement; Argentina tells German ambassador to re-export or destroy short-wave radio transmitter.

Japan reported demanding military bases in Thailand; British fear new Japanese threats to Singapore, Burma; Tokyo announces new credit agreement with Thailand, indicating Japan hit by British-United States credit freezings.

Moscow Statement

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, Aug. 1—(AP)—The battle of Smolensk, gateway to Moscow, entered its seventeenth day today with the Russians apparently taking the initiative to force back the Germans at some points.

The Russian air force, which the Germans had announced destroyed cooperated with land troops to counter-attack the German positions in the Smolensk direction.

The Russians asserted that Smolensk—which the Germans claimed they captured two weeks ago—was still in the defenders' hands. After fighting off 42 German attacks since July 16 the Russians took the initiative.

This afternoon's communique said that sharp fighting had continued throughout the night in the Smolensk sector and said other battles were raging in the zones of Zhitomir, west of Kiev, and Novorzhev, 200 miles south of Leningrad.

It made no mention, however, of action at Porkhov, 50 miles north of Novorzhev, where fighting had been reported yesterday.

In addition to smashing at German ground forces and communications, the Red air force was reported to have sunk a destroyer in the baltic and severely damaged two other ships.

In Moscow, Harry L. Hopkins, U. S. lend-lease administrator, talked three hours in his second

Berlin Communique

Berlin, Aug. 1—(AP)—German forces have wiped out Red Army units encircled south of Smolensk and captured 35,000 prisoners and 245 cannon, DNB, the official news agency, reported today.

It said the Russians also lost tens of thousands killed in this action in the salient which the Germans have plunged through the Stalin line toward Moscow. The Russian forces first were surrounded, then destroyed yesterday, DNB said.

This apparently was far in the rear of advance units which the Germans have reported as far east as the vicinity of Vyazma, about 130 miles from Moscow, and in an area where Soviet forces were said to have been cut up and pocketed in isolated groups.

On the far southern front, DNB admitted that Red Army forces temporarily drove a wedge between German and Rumanian troops, but it said attempts to widen the gap into a break-through "collapsed with bloody Bolshevik losses."

Berlin, Aug. 1.—(AP)—A High Command communique of extraordinary brevity reported steady progress on the eastern front today as Germans, stirred by other war advices, waited to hear that German armies might soon be hammering at the very gates of Leningrad.

Reverting again to a broad-picture, barren of any detail, the bulletin from Adolf Hitler's head-

PERU-ECUADOR LINE DISPUTE TERMINATES

Lima, Peru, Aug. 1—(AP)—Peruvian parachute troops were reported today to have captured the Ecuadorean cities of Puerto Bolivar and Machala only a few hours before a truce ended three weeks of border war between the two countries at 6 o'clock last evening.

Introduction of European blitzkrieg tactics for the first time in the western hemisphere was disclosed in a Peruvian communique which claimed a brilliant victory over Ecuador's armed forces.

Before the cease-fire order was given, the communique said, Peruvian troops had regained all territory seized by the Ecuadorian army since July 6, when a 100-year-old boundary dispute flared into open war.

NORTH INDO-CHINA IS FRIENDLY TO THE U. S.

Saigon, Indo-China, Aug. 1—(AP)—As Japanese troops continued to pour into southern Indo-China, the press at Hanoi, French capital in the north, today began to exhibit a friendly disposition to the United States.

The newspapers, in presumably inspired articles, described U. S. Far Eastern policy as far-sightedly aware of Japanese danger and sympathetic to France and the French empire. They contrasted this with what was termed the declining British Far Eastern policy since 1931.

At Saigon Japanese bombers and fighters filled the skies and the government controlled press commented that "the Japanese have landed and the British threat to Indo-China is ended."

Latest A. P. War Bulletins

Rome, Aug. 1—(AP)—German planes again bombed the besieged British stronghold of Tobruk, Libya, last night after a day of artillery exchanges, the Italian high command reported today. The Italians said British aircraft had again raided the Fascist base at Bengasi, Libya, killing one civilian.

Moscow, Aug. 1—(AP)—A German destroyer was sunk in the Baltic and two other ships were badly damaged, the Soviet information bureau said in a military communique today.

Helsinki, Finland, Aug. 1—(AP)—The recently pro-British newspaper Helsingin Sanomat called the alliance of Great Britain and Soviet Russia a "mockery of fate" today and deplored RAF participation in Wednesday's bombing of Petsamo.

Vichy, Unoccupied France, Aug. 1—(AP)—Regulations putting teeth into laws banning Jews from a long list of professions and forbidding them to dispose of their property to forestall Aryanization went into force today. Prefectures now will set deadlines for Jews to hand in working cards.

Berlin, Aug. 1—(AP)—The German-administered government general of Poland annexed territory today in the vicinity of Lwow, which had been under Russian rule under the 1939 Russian-German treaties, DNB stated in a dispatch from Krakow.

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 1—(AP)—The RAF today reported that Bengasi, Italian base on the Libyan coast, was attacked Wednesday by British heavy bombers which set several fires, "one of which was visible 50 miles away."

London, Aug. 1—(AP)—Robert Montgomery, American motion picture actor, arrived in London today in the uniform of a naval lieutenant as the latest edition to the growing staff of naval attaches at the United States embassy.

Tokyo, Aug. 1—(AP)—Domei, Japanese news agency, today quoted Japanese embassy sources in Moscow as saying that Siberian railroads were crowded with refugees fleeing from Leningrad and other cities in the path of the German offensive.

Swiss Celebrate 650 Years of Independence

Schwyz, Switzerland, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Cannon roared in salute rather than in battle and fires burned for freedom rather than destruction today as the people of this Alpine country celebrated 650 years of independence.

Lights blazed during the night, making this town and the surrounding countryside the only bright spot in war-darkened central Europe. Blackout restrictions are to be lifted throughout the nation tonight when celebration of the anniversary moves into full swing.

Throughout the night and during today runners carried to all parts of the nation torches kindled at a traditional bonfire in nearby Ruetli Glade.

GUNBOAT ATTACK IS CONSIDERED CLOSED INCIDENT

Japanese Apologies Accepted But Bombing Causes Talk in Capital of Delaying Independence for the Philippines Indefinitely

WILL PAY INDEMNITIES

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—The Japanese bombing of the gunboat Tutuila was marked a closed incident in the State Department today, but concern in congress over the Far Eastern situation caused talk of delaying independence for the Philippines indefinitely.

Acting Secretary of State Welles, after conferring with President Roosevelt, announced last night that the United States had accepted the official apologies of the Japanese government for the attack on the U. S. gunboat near Chungking, China, Wednesday.

The apologies, he disclosed, were accompanied by an offer to pay indemnities for the damage the ship suffered, and by assurance that measures would be taken to prevent the recurrence of such incidents in the future.

Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, Japanese ambassador who delivered the apologies, left the State Department telling newsmen, "I'm doing my best to iron out difficulties and maintain good relations between your country and my country."

In the Senate today, however, the recent Japanese thrust into Indo-China brought the future status of the Philippines into question. Under the present law, the commonwealth of the Philippines would become a sovereign republic on July 4, 1946.

Senator Austin (R-Vt), acting minority leader, said in an interview that "the entire Philippine question should be re-examined in the light of recent events. I be-

KILLED IN CRASH

Scranton, Aug. 1—(AP)—Miss Cora Lovering, 50, bookkeeper at the Scranton State Hospital and a member of one of Scranton's best known families, was killed last night when the auto she was driving left the highway near Tunkhannock during a rainstorm and plunged over an embankment. Mrs. William Cullough, Clarks Summit, wife of a retired banker, and Mrs. George Herron, New York City, who were riding with Miss Lovering, suffered injuries and were removed to the state hospital here.

OLD LAWYER DIES

SHIPS DETAINED IN COAST PORTS

San Francisco, Aug. 1—(AP)—Her passengers aboard and all gangplanks up but one, the crack Japanese liner Tatuta Maru was ready today to streak for home, awaiting a release by the U. S. Department of Justice that would permit her to sail despite libel suits against her valuable cargo.

The Nipponese liner Heian Maru, meantime, was posted to sail at 3 p. m. from Seattle, similar suits against her cargo having reportedly been settled, and the liner Asama Maru docked at Honolulu after delaying her arrival six days because of strained Japanese-American relations.

THREE DIE IN PENNSY ACCIDENT

BUFFALO-WASHINGTON SPECIAL IS INVOLVED

Williamsport, Aug. 1—(AP)—A Pennsylvania railroad freight train early today hurled a stalled truck onto an adjoining track, derailing a passenger train locomotive and killing three of its occupants.

Crushed to death as the locomotive and its coal tender plunged down a six-foot embankment were Engineer F. E. Snyder, Northumberland, Pa., Fireman H. F. McHenry, Sunbury, Pa., and C. K. Shaibley, of Williamsport, road foreman of engines, who was on an inspection trip.

Three baggage and mail cars of the Washington-Buffalo passenger train were yanked off the tracks, but remained on the right of way. None of the passenger coaches left the rails. All occupants were reported to have escaped injury.

The wreck occurred at 1:20 a. m. (EST), 23 miles east of here near Watsontown in Northumberland county.

Four men transporting a steam shovel over a rural route in a trailer truck said after their machine stalled they tried in vain to flag the freight as it sped from Altoona to Wilkes-Barre.

O. A. Long, fireman on the freight, said the locomotive sheared off the cab of the truck which burst into flames and was carried 200 yards in front of the engine before being dumped onto the adjoining track in front of the northbound passenger.

Long said when he saw the passenger approaching, he and Brakeman Pat Murphy, also of Tyrone, jumped from the freight and ran ahead in a futile effort to halt the oncoming train. Victims were pinned under the wrecked locomotive and all were dead when removed by Watsontown firemen.

Three cars near the front of the freight buckled after collision with the truck, but none of the crew members was injured. The engineer was L. C. Zindle, of Tyrone.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE HIGHLY PRAISES SOVIET DEFENSE

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—President Roosevelt asserted today that Russia's resistance to the Axis war machine was "magnificent' and "frankly better than any military expert in Germany thought it would be."

That was his reply at a press conference—he authorized direct quotes—to an inquiry on what he thought of Russian resistance to date. He said:

"It is magnificent and frankly better than any military expert in Germany thought it would be."

When a reporter, referring to Adolf Hitler, asked whether Mr. Roosevelt included Germany's outstanding military expert among those surprised at the Russian resistance, the president suggested that newsmen not spoil the story.

A laugh was his only response to another question—whether Germany had been doing some tall lying.

The chief executive said that Russia did not come under terms of the lease-lend bill and he saw no prospect that she would.

SIXTEEN RESCUED AT SEA LAND AT LISBON

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 1—(AP)—Sixteen survivors of the 3,433-ton British freighter Holmside were landed here today by the Portuguese freighter Saudades, which picked them up from a raft in the Atlantic ocean off the Cape Verde Islands.

Members of the Saudades' crew said the rescued seamen were in desperate condition for want of food and water and were surrounded by scores of sharks when their raft was found.

Drastic Action Is Considered by Officials to Halt Sugar Hoarding

SHORTAGE DISCOUNTED

BY OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—Apparently fearful that the war may cause shortages, American consumers have engaged in another sugar-hoarding spree, but it may backfire on them.

Despite government assurances that supplies were ample, officials said today that housewives, candymakers, manufacturers of other products requiring sugar, wholesalers and retailers have bought sugar at a record breaking rate this year to build up reserve stocks for use in case of a scarcity or stratosphere prices.

This heavy buying activity had one natural result—a sharp rise in prices. Today these prices are the highest since the war's start in 1939, when a similar epidemic of hoarding led the government to take drastic action to check the advance. Raw sugar is being quoted at about $3.60, duty-paid basis, per hundred pounds at New York.

Under a sugar control law, the Agriculture Department has the power to say how much sugar may be marketed in this country in

MEXICO TURNS DOWN REQUEST FROM GERMANY

Action on Protest of President's Blacklist Provides Evidence of Intention of Nation to Co-operate With Washington

RESENTS INTERFERENCE

Mexico City, Aug. 1—(AP)—Mexico, rejecting with a stern rebuke a German government request that she protest President Roosevelt's blacklist of pro-Axis firms here, provided tangible evidence today of her intention to cooperate with the United States in solving mutual problems created by the European war.

Mexico told Germany she regarded the request as not only imperious, but threatening, and declared she would brook no interference from abroad in the formulation of her national policies.

She took exception particularly to the German assertion that "resigned acceptance" of Washington's anti-Axis measures could not fail to influence the attitude of the Berlin government in renewing commercial relations with Mexico after the war.

This warning, declared Mexican Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla, "reveals by the sole fact of its being formulated a position of pressure, imperious and unjustifiable, which constitutes an open contradiction to the spirit of reciprocal respect which governs the foreign relations of the Mexican republic."

The German request on the Washington blacklist and Mexico's answer were disclosed last night with the publication of notes exchanged between Padilla and the Nazi minister, Rudt von Collenberg.

In his note, dated July 28, von Collenberg referred to the blacklist as "unjust and transcendental," asserted it violated "the liberty of commerce nd even the sovereignty of Mexico" and declared it is the Sentence was pronounced by Judge Albert B. Maris.

Demands Reported Made on Thailand

By the Associated Press

London, Aug. 1.—Japan has demanded military bases in Thailand and control of that country's rubber, rice and tin production, it was reported authoritatively here today. Japan was said to have offered in exchange restoration of the province of Laos and the ancient city of Angkor, both in Japanese-dominated French Indo-China.

It was believed in London that Thailand's only alternative to granting bases would be forcible Japanese occupation of them.

(Tokyo announced today an agreement between Japan and Thailand under which Japan gained a large credit for purchases in Thailand, mostly rice, it is presumed.)

The Royal Air Force has been strengthened in Burma, the Air Ministry announced today, with construction of airdromes "for both offensive and defensive actions."

TRUCK MEASURE AWAITS ACTION BY GOV. JAMES

FIVE MORE VETOED

Harrisburg, Aug. 1—(AP)—Governor James concentrated efforts today to clear his desk of legislation left by the 1941 session, but failed to give any inkling of his attitude toward the measure to increase the maximum weight of trucks on Pennsylvania roads—one of the most controversial in the lot.

The bill would raise the weight limit from 39,000 pounds—the maximum since 1923—to 42,100 pounds, the figure set by a conference committee of senators and representatives after months of debate. Senator Anthony J. Cavalcante (D-Fayette) stirred up one of the most heated arguments of the seven-month session with lobbying accusations against backers of the bill, which also reduces the registration fees for lighter trucks and passenger buses.

The latter item, it was estimated today, would cost the state approximately $300,000 in revenue.

James vetoed five more bills, in-

"LITTLE STEEL" WILL DRAFT UNION POLICIES

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1—(AP)—CIO-Steel Workers Organizing Committee union presidents in plants of Bethlehem, Republic, Inland and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Companies have been summoned to meet here August 14 to outline union policies.

About 150,000 workers are employed by the "little steel" group, against which the union waged an unsuccessful strike in 1937. Bethlehem Steel recently agreed to negotiate and sign union contracts in plants where the union proved majority membership. Elections at Bethlehem plants in Johnstown, Leetsdale and Rankin, Pa., Lackawanna, N. Y., and two Los Angeles branches were won by the SWOC.

PREPARE FOR FUEL BLACKOUT

In Face of Predictions That Nightly Closing of Service Stations in Atlantic Seaboard Would Cause Unemployment, Secretary Ickes and Oil Industry Perfect Plans to Apply Curfew Beginning Sunday Night

RATIONING MAY BE THE NEXT STEP TAKEN

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—In the face of predictions that the nightly closing of service stations in Atlantic seaboard states would cause unemployment, Secretary of Interior Ickes and the oil industry perfected plans today to apply the curfew next Sunday, with more drastic action to conserve motor fuel supplies indicated should this blackout fail.

Oil men accepted the proclamation closing down an estimated 100,000 gasoline stations from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m., seven days a week, as showing Ickes' determination to meet the predicted eastern fuel shortage, even to the extent of adopting rationing, if need developed.

Ickes, who is defense petroleum coordinator, said in announcing the curfew yesterday that if the new step failed to cut consumption precipitately, "it then must be followed by other steps to accomplish our ends."

In New York, Louis Kimmel, manager of the gasoline merchants of Brooklyn and Queens, estimated that the night shutdowns would cost 100,000 men their jobs—10,000 in metropolitan New York alone. Further, he said he believed the curfew could not be made fully effective without a government order.

Ickes said yesterday, however, that the oil companies themselves had recommended the night closing program, and indicated that he expected those companies would see that any recalcitrant dealers fell into line. While he expressed doubt that the government had authority to prosecute stations which failed to close, Ickes added that cooperation of the industry should obviate any need for attempted court action

He said he saw no serious unemployment in the offing as a result of the station closing.

Philadelphia, Aug. 1—(AP)—Doubt was expressed today as to whether closing of service stations would result in substantial lower-

Harriman Flies Home To Report to Chief

London, Aug. 1—(AP)—W. Averell Harriman, co-ordinator of the U. S. aid-to-Britain program, has left England by plane for the United States to report to President Roosevelt.

Harriman's departure was disclosed by the United States embassy, but the announcement failed to say exactly when he left or when he was expected to return. He was accompanied by his assistant, Robert Meikeljohn.

It was Harriman's first trip home since he came to London March 15.

He had a hurried meeting with Harry L. Hopkins, administrator of the lease-lend program, before the latter left for Moscow earlier this week.

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—Senate and House conferees today scheduled for final action next week a nation-wide flood control bill which includes three in Pennsylvania—on the Susquehanna river at Sunbury, on the Allegheny river near Warren and the Stillwater reservoir on the Lackawanna river.

The bill as amended provides for a general Susquehanna river plan to include works at Sunbury at an estimated cost of $1,900,000 and the Stillwater reservoir at an estimated cost of $2,420,000. The reservoir project was inserted by the Senate and agreed to by House leaders.

The bill, which authorizes $45,000,000 for a comprehensive flood control plan for the upper Ohio river watershed, provides specifically for the flood control dam and reservoir on the Allegheny above Kinzua in Warren county.

Army engineers have estimated the cost of this multiple-purpose project at $35,000,000. It would be the largest of a series of flood control projects designed to protect western Pennsylvania from flood waters.

In addition to flood control, the dam will provide for pollution abatement and carry equipment for eventual hydro-electric power development.

Western Pennsylvania flood control advocates have contended that the Allegheny reservoir would provide a source of constant fresh water for domestic use for communities below the dam.

MODERATOR TO BE SPEAKER AT NORTH WARREN

Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, moderator of the 153rd General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, will be the speaker at the North Warren Presbyterian church on Sunday evening at eight o'clock, it was announced today by the Rev. J. H. Cruickshank, pastor.

Dr. Smith has been for 10 years a member of the permanent judicial commission of the church and for a quarter century the pastor of Immanuel church of Los Angeles.

He was born in St. Louis county, Mo., August 7, 1883. He represents one of four successive generations of Presbyterian ministers. His father was the Rev. Dr. Joseph Addison Smith, pastor for 12 years in Baltimore; his grandfather was the Rev. William Addison Smith, a home missionary in Texas; and his son, the Rev. Herbert Booth Smith, Jr., is also a Presbyterian pastor. A second son, James Comfort Smith, is expected to begin his theological seminary training this fall.

Dr. Smith's education was obtained in the public schools of Baltimore; Smith Academy, St. Louis; Washington University, St. Louis, and Princeton Theological Seminary. He was ordained to the Presbyterian ministry in 1909. His first pastorate was the North Presbyterian church of Rochester, N. Y. In 1912 he went to Knoxville, Tenn., as pastor of the Second church, and in 1916 to Immanuel church, Los Angeles, now the second largest Presbyterian church in the United States.

Dr. Smith is a writer as well as a preacher and has published several books.

PLAN BROADCASTS

The America First Committee states its case tonight with two radio speeches, according to the Associated Press. The first, by R. Douglas Stewart, Jr., national director of the committee, will come from Chicago over the NBC blue network at 10 o'clock. The second, by Senator Nye of North Dakota, will be broadcast from St. Louis by MBS from 10:30 to 11 and by CBS from 10:30 to 10:45.

SHERIFF CLUBBED

Mervin McKinley, Clarion county sheriff, was clubbed by a Hawthorne man whom he sought to commit to the Warren State Hospital yesterday. The help of six state policemen was required to take the man into custody. McKinley said the man struck him several times on the head and face with a club, then locked himself in his home. State police from Punxsutawney and Clarion were called to the scene.

KERCHOO TIME!

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg "It's time again . . . (kerchoo) . . . to call attention . . . (kerchoo) . . . to the fact that the hay fever season is just around the corner and in Pennsylvania that's something to reckon with."

Along about August 15th that unfortunate group of hay fever sufferers starts to sneeze and don't stop until frost.

In those late weeks of summer, ragweed—chief reason for hay fever—spreads its pollen from Lake Erie to the Delaware river and the trek to the mountains and the seashore for relief starts.

The annual epidemic—it's as regular as elections and taxes—is of little concern to the state government at Harrisburg ordinarily for the Department of Health appropriates no funds for research. The medicos in the department say frankly they wouldn't know how to cure it and about all they could do would be to take a pollen count so they could say where conditions were at their worst.

One branch of the government steps out of its road, however, to do something for the poor sniffler, and at the same time give our neighboring town of Kane a big boost. The Department of Commerce sends a notice to all automobile club magazines in the nation recommending one place in Pennsylvania where relief can be had—the town of Kane, atop the Allegheny plateau in oil-producing McKean county.

IF LENINGRAD FALLS

"Berlin's quiet insistence that Leningrad is about to fall compels our attention," says DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press war analyst. "This former glittering capital of the czars is the second city of all the Russias, and one of the most important of the Soviet defensive centers. It's loss would be a grave blow to the Bolshevists and would create an immediate threat to the entire structure of the Stalin defenses."

MacKenzie believes that it would be well to regard the situation with reserve, pending developments, but feels the matter is insistent enough to call for a re-examination of what it will mean if the Hitlerites and their Finnish allies do get possession of this great industrial city of 3,200,000 inhabitants. Here are some of the vital points he cites for consideration:

Leningrad is Russia's sole remaining port on the Baltic. It is the bridge-head for a network of railroads which extend into the country in all directions.

Capture of Leningrad would cut the Soviet Union off from its naval forces in the Baltic altogether, leaving this homeless and wandering navy to the mercy of German men-of-war and bombers.

Not only does Leningrad give Russia her all-important access to the Baltic, but it is one of the greatest industrial centers of the Soviet. Here among many other products are manufactured munitions of war, machinery of all sorts, chemicals and rubber.

But apart from what Leningrad means in itself, its capture would at once produce the menace of a German-Finnish turning movement against the Stalin line, which has its right flank anchored on the port of Leningrad. This menace would be multiplied if the Nazis at the same time pressed their assault on the center of the Stalin line in the Smolensk area.

Now, of course, we don't know what the plans of the Russian command are to meet such a situation. It would be a seven days' wonder, however, if the Reds hadn't worked out a very definite line of strategy.

Having foreseen war with Germany, they have for years been preparing for just such an emergency.

So far as concerns the defense of the city proper, it is supposed by foreign military circles to be a giant fortress, but naturally, details are lacking. Certainly it is no secret that it is defended on the Baltic side by the great naval base of Kronstadt, which is heavily fortified.

The land side of the metropolis is understood to be guarded by strategically placed fortifications and artillery. Apart from this the entire manpower of the city has been trained for eventualities, and the forces of the regular army and air fleet there must be very strong.

One would expect the Bolshevists to make such a fierce defense as to produce actual hand-to-hand fighting with cold steel.

The most encouraging thing about today's war news is that the Russians claim the Nazis are halted and Hitler isn't denying it.

August seems to have brought along with her a welcome drop in temperature over what July had to offer.

• EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Aug. 1.--It looked for a time as though the now vast and still growing Rural Electrification Administration might be sacrificed in the interests of national defense, but by dint of some close figuring, plus a slight shift in the objectives of the REA job to tie it in more closely with defense, the $100 million appropriation for this fiscal year will all be used.

REA's main problem has been to get an allocation of metal. REA lines are now about half aluminum and half copper. Aluminum is out for the duration, but it is a safe bet now that REA will get the 73,000 tons of steel and the 67,000 tons of copper for 305,000 miles of wire, the 3000 tons of zinc needed for the two million poles that will be needed to carry the program into the fall of 1942.

You might not think that the expansion of a rural electrification program had anything to do with national defense, but REA fits into the picture like this:

First, a big campaign is on to prove that "food will win the war." Anything that helps in the production of food, helps win the war. Electrification of farms helps increase the production of food. Electrification of farms therefore helps win the war.

Second, there is a shortage of power, particularly in some regions. REA figures by taking a good part of its appropriation and putting it into steam or diesel generating stations, strategically located, it can alleviate this power shortage. Then, when the war is over, these power stations will be available to feed into new rural distribution systems until the country is covered.

For dumb city fellers, and for boys who left the farm before this wonderful age of rural electrification began, it may have to be explained how this juice is used. Take dairy products, for which there is now an extra demand from Britain: Electricity runs the milking machines, water pumps for the stock, separators and refrigerator systems to keep the milk from spoiling.

Take poultry: A farmer who doesn't have electric lights in the hen houses, to make the biddies work overtime and all the time, simply can't compete with modern neighbors who do. Take truck farms: Hot beds are no longer heated by manure, but by electricity.

Incidentally, REA through the U. S. Film Service, achieved something of an artistic triumph recently through its documentary movie, "Power and the Land," which explained all this. It's as good as the much discussed "Plow That Broke the Plains" and "The River." In the REA contribution, Director Joris Ivens looked around till he found a natural cast of actors in Bill and Hazel Parkinson and their family, of Belmont county, Ohio.

Ivens filmed the home life of the Parkinsons, B. E.—before electrification. Coal oil lamps, hand milking, baths in a tin tub, soured milk in the romantic but inefficient spring house. Then the life of the Parkinsons, A. E.—after electrification. Lights all over the place. Hot and cold running water. Shower baths. Milking machines and electric iceboxes. Radio, electric stove and all the other luxuries.

REA opened up shop in 1935 with a $14 million appropriation. At that time, it was estimated that only 743,000 of the 6,800,000 U. S. farms had electricity. Since then, and up to June 1, REA has had appropriations of $374 million. It has strung 354,000 miles of wire, it has 60 generating plants of its own, costing $11 million. House wiring and plumbing cost $7 million and distribution systems $348 million.

It has advanced loans to 824 co-operatives with 1,170,000 customers, and the acreages on loans is less than 33 cents per $1000—a good record to any bank. The money is therefore coming back, with the exception of the $4 million annual administration costs, which the Department of Agriculture appropriation contributes and writes off.

The over-all farm electrification picture today is that two million out of the six million farms are now wired, a 300 per cent increase in six years.

REA distribution systems buy 588 million kilowatts from private and government plants and they generate 45 million kilowatts of their own. These REA power

• STORIES IN STAMPS

Agriculture Is Chile's Most Important Industry

AGRICULTURE is Chile's largest industry. The country is practically self-supporting in respect to food, although large quantities of rice, sugar and beef are still imported.

Production is primitive and not intensive. There are approximately 95 million acres of arable land, of which only 2,300,000 are sown.

The government of Chile recognized its agricultural workers with the 1939 stamp above.

The fruit industry has developed, especially in the region around Valparaiso. Fresh, dried, canned and preserved fruits are exported. Peaches, pears, plums, apricots and melons are grown. Apples, the most important crop in the south, strawberries, raspberries, loganberries and currants flourish.

Vegetables of all sorts, tobacco and cotton are cultivated. Chilean livestock is extensive. The cattle are killed for home consumption, and the hides exported.

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1921

The matter of a location for the proposed sub-high school building and the regulation of school dances were the foremost matters discussed at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday evening.

Improvements are being made at the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument under the direction of the Park Committee of the D. A. R. The improvements are fast taking shape and have progressed enough to give some idea of what is being contemplated for the site.

By defeating the strong Struthers-Wells team by a score of 8 to 3 on high school diamond last evening, the Refiners demonstrated that they are in the running for honors in the second half of the league schedule.

There was a ripple of excitement at noon today at Carver street and Pennsylvania avenue. Charles Tingwall driving a conveyance brushed against a car driven by Charles Enos and marred the finish of the machine to some extent.

Mrs. F. B. Jackson and Mrs. O. S. Brown will entertain this evening at half after six o'clock at the Warren Outing Club at a four-course dinner.

An airplane is reported to have passed over this section in a northerly direction shortly after noon Monday.

In 1931

Two service stations on the East Side, the Cities Service and Carlson Service Station, were broken into some time during last night by some person or persons whom police have not been able to locate, but the culprits were unrewarded for their efforts.

Benny Bowers, popular pilot and manager of the Warren Airways airport, who has been here for almost a year, has decided to return to his home in Greenville, where he has a well-established business. He has made a host of friends here through his courteous management of the field.

The Warren Pennsylvanians took it on the chin to the tune of 6 to 4 at the hands of the Corry Merchants Saturday afternoon at Russell Field. Joe Gardner was by far the most consistent hitter for the locals, getting a single each of the first three times at the plate.

Mrs. Clara Gildersleeve, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Oliphant and William Smith left Wednesday by motor for Mrs. Gildersleeve's camp at East Machias, Me.

Friends of Mrs. Grace Siggins are complimenting her today on receiving a third place in the Erie horse show with her Colonel Chenault.

A moon that is between half moon and full is known as a "gibbous moon."

CRANIUM CRACKERS

PICTURE PEOPLE

It's hard to keep up with Hollywood, and even people who live there may be three jumps behind on the doings of the various stars. How much do you know about the private lives of the people in pictures?

1. What radio-screen crooner has recently taken up ventriloquism, and what does he call his dummy?
2. What does the "B" stand for in Cecil B. DeMille?
3. Who would you say is going to appear in the film "Capt. Horatio Hornblower," W. C. Fields, Errol Flynn, Shirley Temple or Charles Winninger?
4. Why has Lionel Barrymore played his roles in the Dr. Kildare and other pictures in a wheel chair?
5. Who is the actress said to be filling Marie Dressler's shoes as a teammate for Wallace Beery?

FUNNY BUSINESS

EARLY AD COPY MEANS GOOD COMPOSITION AND A CHANCE FOR BEST POSITION

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—There's a common expression — "I had the floor jerked out from under me"—and it applies to an actual incident in the House of Representatives. Here's the story:

Said the speaker pro tem: "Under a previous order of the House, the Gentleman from Alabama (Mr. Luther Patrick, a Birmingham Democrat) is recognized for 30 minutes."

Mr. Patrick: "Mr. Speaker, I should like to have you remember that this cry was raised by the Republicans and not by the Democrats. I just did not think it would be fair for us Democrats to sit around and let the Republicans get away with the pretense that they were building the national defense, etc."—one minute and 10 seconds.

Mr. Keefe (R.-Wis.): "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. Patrick: "It will be a whole lot better for both of us if I yield later.

Mr. Keefe: "I want the gentleman to yield at that point."

Mr. Patrick: "Make a note of it. We will talk about it later!" (Two seconds.)

Mr. James W. Mott (R-Oregon): "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for an inquiry?"

Cites Record

Mr. Patrick: "I want to state that the gentleman standing over there has a good national defense record. . . . I will not yield at this time however."

Mr. Mott: "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for an inquiry?"

Mr. Patrick: "No; I do not yield for an inquiry."

Mr. Mott: "I wanted to inquire at what point——"

Mr. Patrick: "If the gentleman will hold up his inquiry, no doubt it will be answered. . . ." (For 9 seconds.)

Mr. Mott: "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Patrick: "Congressman Mott of Oregon, who has not been here long enough to catch on to how his Republican brothers operate. . . ." (For 11 seconds.)

Mr. J. William Ditter (R-Pa.): "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Patrick: "No, I cannot yield to the gentleman now. I wish I could. Do not beg me because you will break my heart. . . ."

Mr. Ditter: "Mr. Speaker will the gentleman yield in view of the conversation we had over the telephone?"

Mr. Patrick. "If I yield to the gentleman, he will run off. . . ."

Mr. Mott: "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Patrick: "No; I will yield at the end of my speech, but not now. . . ." (Two seconds.)

Mr. Mott: "Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order that there is not a quorum present. . . ."

Mr. Patrick: "That will suit me; get a quorum call, and we shall have more folks here. I should have known they would commence hollering."

Mr. Speaker: "Evidently there is no quorum present."

Two Possible Motions

(At this point there are two motions, according to the rules of order, which may be offered. The first is a motion for a quorum—that is, calling all available members into the House. The second motion takes precedence over the first. It is the motion to adjourn.)

Mr. Lawrence Lewis (D.-Colo.): "Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn."

And it did.

That is what is known as getting the floor jerked right out from under you. Thirty minutes Mr. Patrick had and—count it up—he didn't get three.

Although he was purple in the face several times while this parliamentary blitzkrieg was in progress, when it was all over, strolling down the Capitol corridor, Mr. Patrick said: "Never mind, it has happened before. I'll make my speech eventually—and without interruption."

FRIDAY BIG DAY

Columbus set sail on Friday; left the Canary Islands on Friday; first sighted land on Friday, and began his return journey on Friday.

CIVIL SERVICE

Lockmen may file applications for the civil service examination now open for this position in the Pittsburgh, Pa., Engineer District, the United States Civil Service commission announced today. Applicants must show that they can swim and row a boat skillfully, and that they have had at least six months of river experience on locks and dams, or on or about boats navigating or performing work on canalized rivers. River experience will include the following: Deckhand or watchman on steam, gasoline, or oil engine-propelled boats, dredges, derrick-boats, sand diggers, etc., or actual employment in any lock or dam operations, or on construction or repair of river structures by means of a floating plant, or the operation of launches; or laboring experience assisting in the operation of the locks or dams. The wage rate for Lockmen in the Pittsburgh, Pa., Engineer District is $1500 a year. Applications must be on file with the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Engineer Department at Large, 925 New Federal Building, Pittsburgh, Penna. before the close of business on August 28, 1941. Copies of the announcements and application forms may be secured from the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, 1018 New Federal Building, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, from the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Engineer Department at Large, 925 New Federal Building, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at first-and second-class post offices in the vicinity of Pittsburgh.

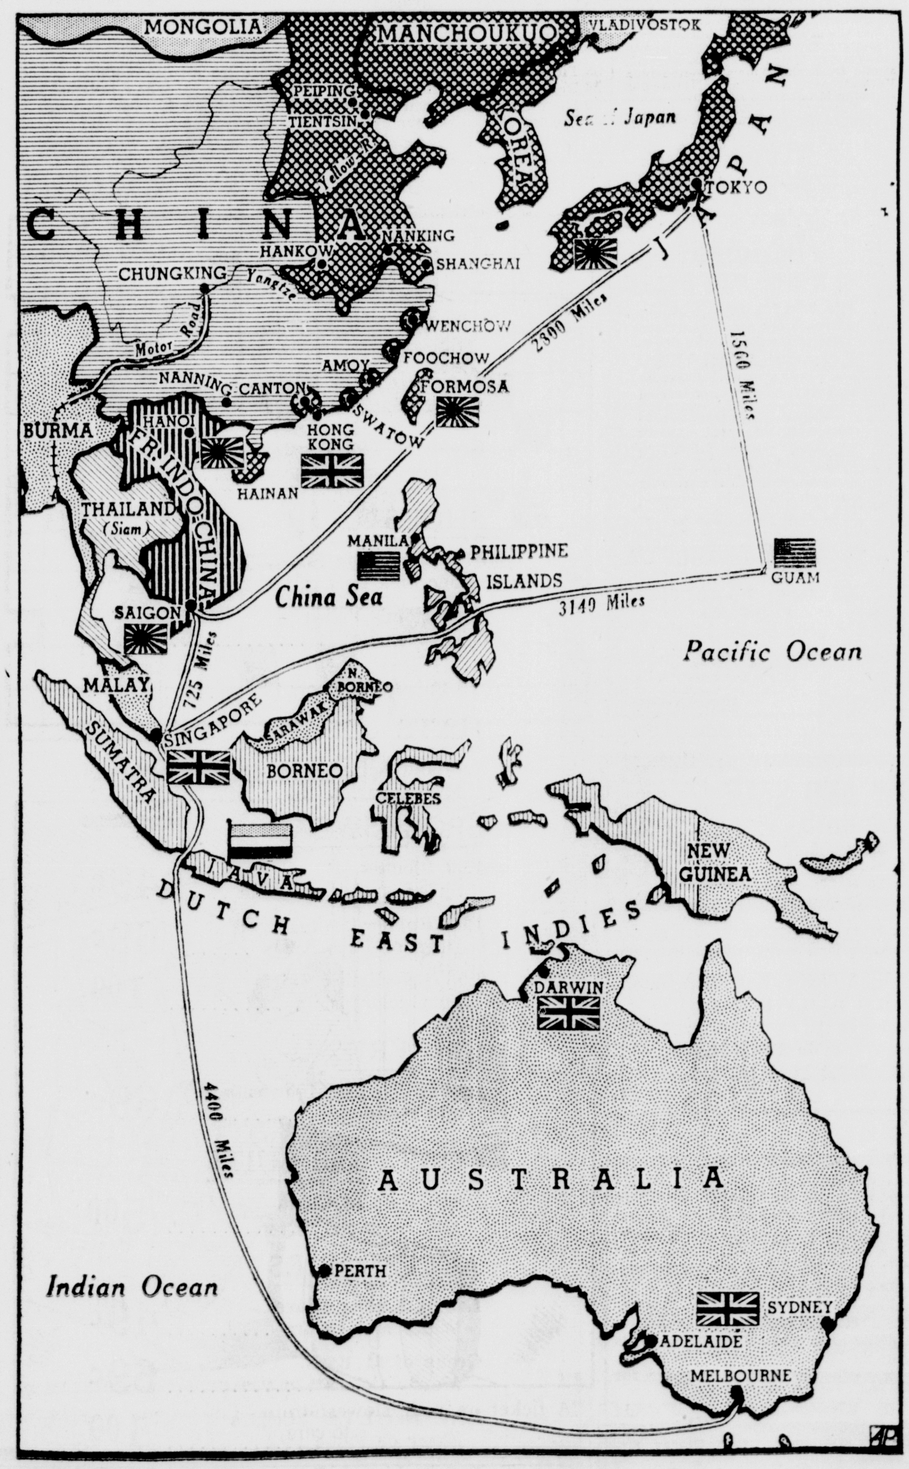

DEPENDS ON LOCATION

The storms known as hurricanes in the West Indies and South Pacific are known as typhoons off the east coast of Asia, cyclones in the Indian seas, and bagulos in the Philippines.

EXPLAINED

The moon, carrying with it a long, tapering shadow, passes between the earth and the sun 25 times in two years. The shadow passes above the North Pole 11 times, above the South Pole 11 times, but touches the earth only three times.

Will 'Shooting War' Spread Over Weirdest Corner Of The Earth?

AP Feature Service

Here is a region of superlatives. It has the deepest ocean (off the Philippines), the most colorful ruins (Angkor-Vat, Indo-China), some of the greatest wealth (of Burmese, Siamese princes), some of the greatest natural resources (Dutch and British East Indies, Australia), some of the most picturesque scenery (Japan), the strangest animals (the panda in China, 10-foot lizards in the East Indies), the most populated nation (China) on earth. The very vastness of the Far East sets it apart.

War—in the sense of actual fighting—has not yet spread to much of this area. Actual battles have taken place only in the Sino-Japanese war (this one started in 1937) and in border skirmishes between Russia and Japan, and between Indo-China and Thailand. But Japan's occupation of Indo-China and her calling up a million fresh soldiers was taken as such a threat by Australia, the United States, and the Dutch East Indies that they immediately retaliated by freezing Japanese credits. Every nation in, or with interests in, the Orient, has long been strengthening its defenses.

Will expanding Japan—aligned by treaty with Germany and Italy (and, ironically with Russia)—be satisfied with her present position and sit tight? Will she attack Singapore? Will she attack the Dutch East Indies? Or will she march on Russia? And how will other nations answer Japan's next move?

A FIRST-DAY-OF-SCHOOL FROCK

PATTERN 4860

by ANNE ADAMS

Be an early bird and start daughter's back-to-school wardrobe now! Pattern 4860, an Anne Adams design, makes a fine beginning—it's so jaunty and simple to do with the Sewing Instructor's aid. The long slide-fastening or buttoning down the back eliminates any need for a side placket closing. The bloused bodice lines, so becoming to a young figure, are gathered below a deep, straight-across yoke. And the very full, very gathered skirt is shown with an inset waistband for neat lines. Add patch pockets for extra style, make short or long full sleeves, and have a round and collarless neckline or a Peter Pan collar. You might even let the entire blouse contrast for a smart effect. Order your pattern today!

Pattern 4860 is available in girls' sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14. Size 10 takes 3 yards 35 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

ANNOUNCING: the brand new Anne Adams Fall Pattern Book is just off the press! And with it you get FREE—a pattern for a stunning hat and bag set! Ludlow Lutherans Welcome Pastor and Wife at Reception

Ludlow, Aug. 1—Moriah Lutheran church was filled to capacity Wednesday evening when a reception was held in honor of the new pastor, Rev. Carl Gronquist, and his wife.

After the opening hymn, Scripture and prayer were given by Rev. H. N. Fahnstrom, of Wilcox, who has been supplying in this parish. The choir then sang "Rejoice".

Rev. Fahnstrom extended a welcome and conducted the following program: Vocal solo, "Hold Thou My Hand", Mrs. Emil Nelson; welcome by Student Victor Benson, of Kane; organ and piano duet, Mrs. Amelia Mattison and Mrs. Ramond Shaffer, playing "The Holy City"; welcome, Rev. W. W. Nyline, of Kane, and Rev. Ernest Peterson, of Ashtabula, O.; selection, "My Prayer", Lutheran Choir.

Little Kathryn Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson, in a welcoming speech to Mrs. Gronquist, presented her with a beautiful bouquet of red roses. Enoch O. Nelson, member of the board of trustees, presented the new pastor with a purse of money. The Gronquists expressed their thanks to all and their hopes for a successful pastorate.

After the closing hymn and benediction, refreshments were served.

(She is of Brit... extraction and has happy mem... of her English visits.) ...called on the British consul, ... that assistance would be ...e and went to work. She ...over to a wool manufac... in Brooklyn, persuaded him ...her have $20 worth of yarn ...paid for after would-be ...s had bought it, and lugged ...k to New York in a suit... Then, after she had talked ...rk Avenue owner into giv... the use of an empty shop, ...t down with her knitting ...pened the door to see what ...happen."

...gs happened so fast that ...atham is breathless yet.

MRS. LATHAM
Relishes Every Bite

"I pinch myself sometimes," she told me. "I can't believe it."

Bundles for Britain rapidly expanded its activities and its network of branches grew with amazing speed. Today its officials estimate that it has sent Great Britain $2,000,000 worth of sox, helmets, surgical kits, ambulances, oxygen tents, hospital beds, clothing and shoes.

In the middle of the New York headquarters, with a finger in every pie, sits Mrs. Latham. But she doesn't sit long. She cuts short her high-voiced telephone directions to fly down the hall to another office. Dashes about with a long yellow pad on which she is constantly writing notes. Rushes off here and there to make speeches. Takes off for Washington or Philadelphia on ten minutes' notice with a nightdress packed in a knitting bag.

She drives herself like a dynamo all day and then goes home to her simple East Side apartment to have dinner in bed, while the children hang on the bedposts and tell her the day's news. Long after they are asleep she is poring over those everlasting notes, scribbling things to be done tomorrow, thinking up new ideas. And she draws no pay.

It's a far cry from the day when she made her debute at Sherry's, danced with a lot of admiring beaux and flirted with Prince Nicholas, son of Queen Marie of Rumania.

The pace quenches even her great fund of energy sometimes. Twice her office staff has had to send her to a hospital to rest. But she is back in a few days.

Soon she will add a new activity—Bundles for Blue Jackets—in aid of sailors on American and British warships. She already has looked forward to the day when war ends. Then she hopes to see Bundles for Britain working for the reconstruction of places ravaged by war.

Mrs. Latham is a pretty, vivid woman of 30, with deep brown eyes and a gorgeous smile. She wears her long hair in a soft roll at the back of her neck and loves pretty, colorful clothes.

All this work leaves her little or no time for play. But she has one favorite recreation. She loves to go shopping in the basement of New York's largest department store.

SHEFFIELD NEWCOMER GIVEN BRIDAL SHOWER

On Tuesday evening, members of the Young Woman's Missionary Society of the Bethany Lutheran church at Sheffield tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of Bertha C. Nelson, 312 West Main street, to compliment Mrs. Carl Gronquist, bride of the church's new minister. The couple were married at Galesburg, Ill., the latter part of June, just prior to Rev. Gronquist's assuming his new charge of Sheffield and Ludlow parishes.

The evening was spent in playing various games, with prizes going to Eunice Anderson, Helen Burgason, Mrs. Gronquist, Axeline Johnson, Mildred Johnson, Mae Magnuson and Florence Timm.

A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out at the luncheon tables, where a large bride formed the centerpiece and smaller brides were used as favors.

Class members present for the occasion were Ellen, Eunice and Martha Anderson, Josephine and Opal Benson, Alice Bramer, Helen Burgason, Evelyn Burlingame, Carrie, Edith and Mabel Carlson, Leona Dalton, Gertrude Engman, Alma, Adeline and Mildred Johnson, Eleanor Kirsch, Mildred Lubold, Madaline and Mae Magnuson, Bertha and Rose Nelson, Evelyn Norlin, Alice Rickenburg, Eva Saxton, Ruth Sowle and Florence Timm.

SHOWER HONORS RECENT NEWLYWED

Mrs. Thomas Eagan, 6 Kenmore street, entertained with a pleasant shower party at her home in compliment to Mrs. John S. Trax, a recent bride.

The honored guest was presented with a useful gift from the following: Ann Shepard, Vivian Hale, Mamie Hummerich, Mary Musante, Jean Snyder and the hostess.

That was a private recording, Miss P. It was made by the Columbia Broadcasting Company. They took it off the air during the actual broadcast and placed it in their library for reference. All broadcasting companies record important programs, but these recordings are never sold.

HERE are two notes with but a single thought...R. W. of Kansas City and B. E. H. of Coatesville, Pa., want to know about tickets to major broadcasts in the New York studios.

These tickets are free, but the waiting list is so long that it usually is advisable to place requests weeks ahead. If you plan to come to New York, I would advise writing at once to the Guest Relations Department of NBC, CBS, or MBS, New York City.

Most book publishers believe the prices of books will be up 25 per cent by Jan. 1st.... It's the rising cost of paper and other essentials that does it.

Kinzua

Kinzua, July 30—Several persons here have reported having killed one or more rattlesnakes in the past few weeks. Three have been killed near the old King store building. It is said that blacksnakes have been placed in the Allegheny State Park, and it is thought that the rattlesnakes are leaving there because they are enemies of the harmless blacksnakes.

The Rainbow Circle of the W. S. C. S. held an ice cream social on the Community House lawn last Friday afternoon and evening which was well attended.

The Helping Hand class held a business meeeting in the Community House on Tuesday evening.

Frank Flick, who was seriously injured several weeks ago when he fell from the second floor railing on the O. V. English poolroom while fixing his porch swing and fell to the pavement below, is still confined to the Warren General Hospital, and has been placed in a cast because of injury to his spine.

Prof. and Mrs. C. A. Burgett and infant son, from Saegertown, were the guests of Prof. and Mrs. B. D. Rosenberry Tuesday.

500 POUNDS OF ALUMINUM SENT BY SHEFFIELD

Sheffield, Aug. 1. — Sheffield township's contribution of aluminum for national defense amounted to more than 500 pounds, it has been announced. The metal, collected Friday and Saturday last week by local Boy Scouts under supervision of Charles Slater, Scoutmaster, and by the Utopian theatre management at a benefit show held there, was transferred Tuesday to the central collection depot in Warren. The local contribution compares favorably with the estimated total of 2,000 pounds collected in the entire county.

S. H. S. GRAD MARRIES

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Lucille Frost, daughter of Mrs. Fred Mills, of Kane, to Lawrence L. Dolan, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Dolan, of Kane. The wedding took place Saturday in St. Joseph's rectory, Sharon, with Rev. William D. Smith officiating. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. William McGrath, of Sharon, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

The bride, a teacher in Kane schools the past five years, is a graduate of Sheffield High School and of Clarion State Teachers' College. Her husband is a graduate of Penn State College and is employed by the Westinghouse Electric and Mfg. Co., Sharon. The newlyweds are residing in that city.

WARREN GIRLS HURT

Two Warren girls were among seven persons injured Wednesday night when a car in which they were riding struck a culvert 4 miles south of Kearsarge on route 19. They are Betty Nuhfer, 10, of R. D. 1, Warren, who is in an Erie hospital with possible internal injuries and a hand laceration, and her sister, Ann Nuhfer, 9, who was discharged from the hospital after being treated for a lacerated right ear.

MAGAZINES ARRIVE

Due to the increased demand for the Good Housekeeping magazine here, caused by a special advertisement in the Times-Mirror, the Warren News Agency was unable to supply the demand here. However, a new supply of the August issue has been received and the magazine may be obtained at newsstands here, according to Jack Greenwald, proprietor, who expressed his apologies for the delay.

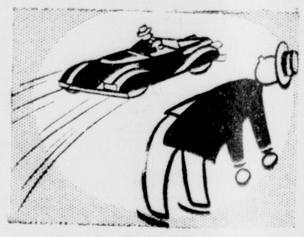

ARCHERS MEET

About 20 members of the Allegheny Archery Club of Warren and the National Forge Club at Irvine met last evening at the latter's range for an informal shoot lasting from seven until nine o'clock. Following a tour of the attractive club building, the Irvine women served a delicious lunch on the veranda. Seated at either end of the table were Lewis Haines, Warren president, and Glenn Patch, head of the host organization. Talk of archery and its tournaments occupied the remainder of the evening.

EIGHT WAYS TO SAVE GAS

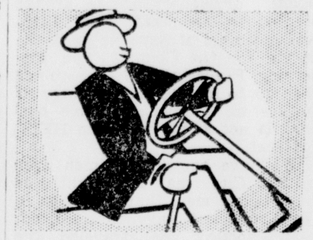

(And Still Another Way Is To Ride A Bicycle)

1. DRIVE at moderate speeds. Above 25 miles an hour a car makes fewer miles to the gallon.

2. ACCELERATE gently. Tramping on pedal sends more gas into carburetor than the motor can utilize.

3. DON'T ATTEMPT high speeds in second gear. Shift into high at 25 miles an hour—or sooner.

4. COAST to a gradual stop. Sudden stops are wasteful of gasoline, and usually unnecessary.

5. KEEP TIRES properly inflated. Under-inflation means more friction, more work for the motor.

6. TURN OFF the switch when you stop. An idling motor may be almost inaudible, but it uses gasoline.

7. KEEP SPARK PLUGS clean. Dirty plugs may mean a waste of 10 per cent of your gasoline.

8. DON'T OVERLOOK the importance of regular lubrication. A little oil and grease save a lot of gas.

Opening—♥ Q. 1

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Our party arrived in San Francisco in time for the opening of the annual Pacific Bridge Week tournament. On our trip across the country, Waldemar von Zedtwitz and I naturally talked bridge a great deal. One of our main topics of conversation was the value of weak no trumps.

At the present time, the majority of experts believe an original no trump bid should be made only with a big hand. It is Von Zedtwitz' opinion, however, that this year will find a trend toward the more general use of the weak no trump.

His basic argument in favor of the weak no trump is it can show a hand with the required two to two and one-half tricks for an opening bid, but lacking a good suit bid. The one no trump bid also forces the opponents into the bidding at the range of two. As you can see from today's hand, it is sometimes difficult for the opponents to reach the right contract when they begin bidding at the two range.

In a recent duplicate game several East-West pairs found their game in hearts. One North-South pair doubled four hearts, which of course was made easily. Others went to four spades and were defeated two tricks.

At the only table where South opened with no trump, North's response of two spades discouraged East from starting to bid at three. North-South made a good stop at three spades, but even if South had bid three no trump and been set undoubled, his pair still would have scored top on the board.

4-H CLUB GIRLS COMPLETE CAMP AT CORNPLANTER

Sixty-five 4-H Club girls from Cameron, Elk, Forest, Jefferson and Warren counties returned to their homes Wednesday after a very enjoyable week spent at Camp Cornplanter.

Twenty of these girls were from Warren county: Mercedes Anderegg, Alice Firth, Bernice Lindell, Caroline Wilcox, Rebecca Williams, Leatrice Smith, Erma Hanson, Sue Mathis, Joyce Hornstrom, Eleanor Peters, Theresa Crull, Marian Westfall, Florence Hollabaugh, Betty Horton, Arlene Schuler, Norberta Stockton, Betty Jane Dodd, Leota Barrett, Gladys Thompson and Georgianna Valentine.

They were accompanied by Mrs. W. G. Lyon, local leader at Lander; Mrs. Lloyd Price, of Bear Lake, and Mrs. Thelma Prendergast, home economics representative.

Other members of the staff were Miss Isabel Myers, Hubert Snyder and Albert Zimmer, club work assistants from Pennsylvania State College; home economics representatives from the other counties, as well as a local leader from each of the other counties; also the permanent staff at the camp; Mr. Reneau, a nurse, a swimming instructor and a lifeguard.

Mrs. Prendergast was camp director for this year, with Miss Ida Peebles, Forest county, in charge of registration, and Miss Regina Wingaris, of Cameron and Elk counties, in charge of the dining room and handcraft. Mr. Zimmer was a popular leader of singing and musical games and Mr. Snyder conducted nature study groups and assisted with other group activities. Each local leader assisted in some phase of the work done.

Very interesting programs were planned for the days at camp. Due to the extreme heat, the Sunday program was changed to allow extra time for swimming, and that evening, the Glade Sunbonnet Girls presented their flag drill as a part of the vespers. Mr. Reneau gave a fine address on "I Went to Camp and Found God".

Vespers on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings were planned under the guidance of Mrs. Prendergast and Mrs. Price. Campfire programs on Monday and Tuesday evenings were under the direction of Miss Myers and Mr. Zimmer, the former taking its theme from a hobo party and providing many clever costumes and stunts. The Tuesday campfire featured a shipwreck party and a variety of talent was exhibited. Warren county girls put on two numbers for this program, a skit by Gladys Thompson, Norberta Stockton and Erma Hanson and some western songs in which the entire Warren county group joined.

The climax of the week's activities was an impressive candle-lighting service held on Tuesday evening.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Times-Mirror,
Dear Sir:

Filling-station operators and others whose employes wear uniforms should be warned that they may be solicited by traveling salesmen to purchase uniforms and pay a substantial amount before delivery. The National Better Business Bureau warns that certain men are reaping a harvest in this game, although they do not represent any manufacturing company and no uniforms are ever delivered. Caution is advised.

Business executives may be approached to purchase "genuine oil paintings and water colors" which are being offered by a man claiming to be a member of the Royal Society of Painters and Water-Colours of London. Apparently he is working westward and has been operating in Buffalo.

H. W. CORRELL, Secretary,
Warren Chamber of Commerce.

R. H. Beebe
1501 Pa. Ave., E.
Warren, Pa.
7-24-41.

To the Editor of the Times Mirror.

I have read the letter from a Mr. John C. Bengtson, who signs himself Chairman Warren County Ministerial Association, about the life, and habits that were apt to be contracted by the men in our Army Camps, and the U. S. Navy.

It seems that this, and many more people think it is entirely up to them to keep these men away from EVIL, collecting FUNDS to do this trick, making it easy for him to keep decent, and good, keeping him on the right road, instead of taking a chance of him making the wrong turn, and getting into bad company, and going STRAIGHT to HELL.

I was wondering, if this Mr. Bengtson had ever been either in an Army Camp, or a Navy Yard, or Ship? or, we may say even had any conversation either with a Soldier, or Sailor, it has always seemed to me, that when there was any need of someone to do the caring for the Country, and preserving Peace, and all the things that go to making the Country fit to live in, it must be some one, that is not afraid to go to HELL for that.

We have had several men even in this City, that I thought was really good men, that had been in the Army, and Navy, that had not been spoiled, or traveled the wrong road. I had the pleasure of knowing the late Col. F. Windsor, had many pleasureable talks with him, and considered it a favor for that. Believing I had known a GENTLEMAN, as well as a SOLDIER, we also have the men of the American Legion, and the V. F. W. all in this City. I am of the opinion that the talk of this going bad by the young men of these days is a SLAP at any of us.

I have served in both these branches of the Service, and have been a resident of your fair City for about (15) years, and I think I have at least been a decent CITIZEN.

There is not much I would not do to help with the comfort of a Soldier, or Sailor at any time I could do just that, but I am of the opinion that regardless of WHERE a MAN may be, should it be in him?, he needs nothing to keep him straight, trusting this will help greatly to keep down the FEELING that the Army, or Navy is the Greatest place in the WORLD to get BAD I am.

Yours very respectfully,
R. H. BEEBE.

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—To a good many citizens hereabouts, the most important purveyor of South American rhythms in this section is Adolfo Roquellas, known more familiarly to the public as Pancho.

Pancho, who seemed for awhile to have been born almost 15 years too soon, rattled his maracas virtually unheeded through the latter years of Prohibition (they were playing jazz then and singing "I'm looking at the world through rose-colored glasses"—remember?) and on through the latter years of the Thirties until, eventually, national thought and the South American way finally pulled abreast of him.

He never played Latin music exclusively, and for this reason he was always able—even if behind a polite grimace—to oblige with a little of "Button Up Your Overcoat" when he would rather have been playing something rhythmic and swivel-hipped about a sloe-eyed Peruvian belle.

I suppose you can get an argumen when you claim anything is first, but if any other maestro on the current scene has had more to do with the slow but steady wave of Latin appreciation in popular music in this country, I would like to know his name.

PANCHO is thin and slight with features that even might be called delicate. He was kicked bodily out of his house in Buenos Aires by an irate father who could not share his heir's enthusiasm for life in the dance casinos of Los Estados Unidos.

There are those who claim that you can do all right by yourself if you can build a better mousetrap, and, in a sense, this is what our outcast did. He built a better tango and won $10,000 in prize money from a steamship company that was launching a new luxury liner and drumming up enthusiasm by a South American-wide tango-composing contest.

Staggering under this bale of folding money, Pancho hurried to New York and organized his own orchestra and soon thereafter was ensconced in the Embassy club, famed during Prohibition, and for a while later, as a place where people loved to spend money.

THAT was a long time ago, and Pancho made the days hum by rippling off scores of rhumbas, waltzes, tangos and other rhythmic lullabies. When he is of a mind, his fiddle is active. He plays "Liebestraum" more satisfactorily to me than any other orchestra. When Veloz and Yolanda gave their great dance concert at Carnegie Hall, it was Pancho who played.

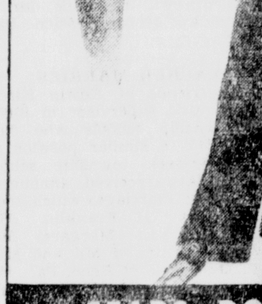

This, in part, is why I say "Pancho" to people who ask for a preference in South American music, and it is the reason, too, on warm summer nights, that I sometimes ride out to Ben Marden's Riviera, where Pancho is playing through the summer, and sit through an evening of his rhythms.

Doris Houck is one New York chorus girl with literary inclinations. Already she has published a book called "Analysis of the Hairy Ape."

The closest thing to a matinee idol in the theater this season seems to be Dick Waring (no kin to Fred), who plays the role of a Welsh coal miner in "The Corn Is Green."

NO FEELING

rsons being mauled and bitten nimals seldom feel pain dur- he attack, according to many game hunters.

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers may have their shortcomings, but they aren't lacking in determination.

They were backed up against the wall yesterday, tottering, ready for a kill by St. Louis, but they bounced back with a 15-hit assault, including three homers, to trounce the Cardinals, 9-5.

This left the National League race in the chaotic state as when the two rivals first came together Tuesday. The Redbirds still have a two-game lead.

In spite of the robust hitting by the Dodgers, their hero was ponderous old Fred Fitzsimmons, who pitched six innings in relief and held the Cards to three hits. These included a homer by Terry Moore and a triple and a double by Jimmy Brown, but they were well insulated and ignited nothing.

The New York Yankees took a tighter grip on the American League lead, meanwhile, by sweeping a double-header from the Detroit Tigers, 6-3 and 5-0.

Charley Keller hit his 26th home run with two on in the 13th inning to win the first game. Darkness curtailed the second session to eight innings.

The speeding Philadelphia Athletics crushed the Chicago White Sox, 9-2, to take over fourth place, with Benny McCoy's grand-slam homer in the fourth providing the impetus. It was the first time in years the A's had been in the first division at this late date.

The Boston Red Sox divided a double-header with the St. Louis Browns. The first affair was a wild hitting demonstration with each team getting 14 safeties and St. Louis winning 16-11. Tex Hughson pitched six-hit ball to give Boston the nightcap, 4-1.

Cleveland and Washington were rained out.

In the National League, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the New York Giants, 6-5, on Chuck Aleno's pinch-single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning, scoring two runs.

Pittsburgh managed to keep right behind by nosing out the Boston Braves, 9-8, in a free-hitting spectacle. The Pirates made 16 hits and scored all their runs in the first six stanzas. Then the Braves went to work and tallied seven runs in the last two innings, falling one marker short.

The Phillies crushed the Chicago Cubs again, 7-2, backing up John Podgajny's six-hit hurling with a 13-hit offensive of their own.

MANY ENTRIES RECEIVED FOR AMATEUR PLAY

New York, Aug. 1—(AP)—Entries close late today for the U. S. Golf Association's annual amateur championship, and, this far in advance, it already is shaping into a free-for-all fight for the title won last year by Dick Chapman, now an athletic instructor at an army air field in Alabama.

Little has been heard from Chapman for the past two months, but some of his more prominent rivals have been hitting the ball well enough to get it noised about generally. In addition there are a few up-and-coming youngsters who may be in the thick of the battle August 25-30 at the Omaha Field Club.

Chief among these are 18-year-old Frank Stranahan, of Toledo, Ohio, and 19-year-old Mario Gonzales, the slender Brazilian. Stranahan this year has won the Ohio and Trans-Mississippi championships, and has the solid support of Byron Nelson, former Open and P. G. A. titleholder who is pro at Toledo.

Duff McCullough, the amiable Philadelphian who went to the finals last year, will be back for another shot at the title.

Looking into the problem facing Coach J. B. Leidig, who will be starting his thirtieth year as grid mentor in Warren High School this fall, we are wondering just what the veteran athletic director will be able to present in the way of a football team to scholastic grid fans. The fact that Leidig has produced many fine teams in seasons past when a similar setup was before him holds confidence for followers of the Dragons. And, though the material will be inexperienced, a fair bunch of football players may be found in the candidates who will answer the call on August 25. As to whether Warren High will enjoy a good season or a poor one rests in the answers of many questions. First, will the youngsters putting forth their efforts be football players? Secondly, what kind of opposition will the local school boys have? And third, will the members of the team be a scrappy bunch or a "lukewarm" group of ball players? Playing under "Jake", though, you can bet that the latter question will be answered with the word "scrappy." And it's a fair bet that a good share of the candidates will have football in their blood and make a heady crew. The only question that can't be answered until the games start being played is that about good, only fair, or poor opposition. That can make the difference between a winning season and a losing campaign, though victories alone don't necessarily make a successful football season.

In the latest issue of the "Sporting News" a humorous story is told about Roy Cullenbine when he was playing on a Detroit sandlot team. It seems an old-timer approached him one day and told him that a couple of scouts were watching him in that day's game, and that they would like to meet Roy following the contest. Greatly inspired, Cullenbine played a great game, made four hits and some spectacular catches. When the game was over, he hurried to the section of the field where the scouts were supposdly waiting, and Roy's knees fairly buckled when he found his efforts had only provided an enjoyable afternoon for two twelve-year-old BOY SCOUTS!

Red Jackets Lay Plans For Fall; Will Carry Twenty-Two Players; Dr. Reese Named To Coach Outfit

It was a hot night to talk football, but a very successful meeting was held last night in the Times-Mirror editorial rooms to organize the Red Jackets, and when it had adjourned twenty-four names of tentative players, nine of which were present at the meeting, were on the list of candidates for the twenty-two berths that are open.

Various business was brought up during the session, and for pre-season expenses the Jackets may need a little money, but they have no financial worries pursuing them this year, as was the case in 1940.

Players present at last night's get-together were: Harold Brown, Tom Conway, Ernie Sedon, Walt Fredericks, Harry Rosequist, Frank Sirianni, Art McKeehan, Willard Zerbe and Bill Dove.

Besides these, Steve Massa, Gerry Bean, Dr. Reese, "Pete" Fanaritis and this paper's sports editor were in attendance.

Dr. "Chuck" Reese has been chosen to coach this season's outfit, and the former University of Pittsburgh line star should serve as a competent mentor.

Other players who tentatively have mentioned plans to try out for the squad, some of whom have definitely assured their services, are: Artie Amann, "Red" Hajnik, Harry Wooster, "Brud" Murphy, Frank Martines, and one of the DeSantis brothers, all of Jamestown; Norm Erickson, "Warnie" Check, Harold Sedon, Ken Whisner, Bob Jewell, "Tink" Wolfe, "Bunny" Wolfe, Bill Graham and Art Giancotti, who hails from Bradford.

Practice sessions are expected to get under way in the next couple of weeks, with shoes being passed out among players who are sure they can play, so that they can start conditioning.

Though Claude Schindler was not present at the meeting, it was decided to retain him as booking manager for the coming season, considering the fine job he turned in last season.

Another plan that this year's Jacket board will endeavor to make materialize is to squeeze more games into the short football season. A program of 13 contests is desired, meaning that the western Pennsylvania semi-pro grid champs will have to start play early in the season in order to play a busy program such as that would be.

A few road trips will be considered and possibly, if a portable lighting system can be imported into the community, one or two night skirmishes will be seen.

Sports Round-up

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Aug. 1—One of the yarns going around town is that Fritzie Zivic was hitting too many high spots before bumping into Red Cochrane at Newark.....The war situation is going to hit southern schools harder than those up this way because more boys in Dixie small towns are members of the national guard....Only thing certain about the site of the Louis Nova bout is that Mike Jacobs will stage it where he figures he can make the most sugar....If that circus really wants Jack Dempsey it'll have to up its $3,000-per-week offer by exactly one grand....American League attendance (due in no small part to the DiMaggio streak and the spurt of the Yanks) is 200,000 ahead of last year's figure, but the moguls think it will slump from now on unless the race tightens up.

What Goes On Here?

Boy, it sure looked like a star-studded night down in San Juan, Puerto Rico, recently....Jack Dempsey knocked out Harry Wills and Lou Nova took a six-round decision from Billy Conn.....The fighters were preliminary boys who believe the adoption of famous names brings luck.

People And Things

Eddie Leonard, the veteran minstrel man who passed on the other day, was a regular at the Polo Grounds and Yankee Stadium for 40 years....Fred Apostoli, now a boxing instructor at the Norfolk naval station, will resume fighting shortly under Harold Scadron's banner..Coach Tom Lieb is getting ready to close his California summer camp and get back on the job at U. of Florida....Those hoss players up in Canada sure are missing the form sheets which no longer can be imported from this side of the border....Tom Harmon's new job at station WJR in Detroit will be sports director, with a little broadcasting of football games on the side.....Last season Earl Mann predicted his Atlanta club would sell Slugger Lester Burge for $1,000 per homer and it looks like the kid may belt 40 this year.....Incidentally, Bill Terry is going to Atlanta soon to see if second-baseman Connie Ryan is worth the $25,000 and two players the Crackers want for him.

Today's Guest Star

H. V. Wade, Detroit News: "A little more of this sort of baseball and the rest of the league will begin to think of our Tigers as the loyal opposition."

Sports Cocktail

Dizzy Dean was roasted in Denver for collecting his $800 guarantee and leaving the ball park at the end of two innings when he had contracted to hurl three.... Johnny Paycheck, one of Joe Louis' victims, is seriously ill in Milwaukee...Johnny Ray and Billy Conn are so lonely in Hollywood they call up their Pittsburgh sports-writing pals two or three times a week just to say hello.... Squire Gene Sarazen has his Connecticut ranch operating in the black, with a weekly revenue of $200 from the sale of milk alone. ...Duke's boxing coach, Add Warren, is so busy with a big stock farm in Delaware that he'll not return to Duke this year.....The 6,800 fans who saw Buddy Knox and Bob Sykes fight in Little Rock the other night set an all-time state record for a boxing match.

Business Note

The Yanks are breezing along like all get-up and the chances are they're definitely off the market. ...But Mr. Farley and his syndicate might do some business in St. Louis or Philadelphia, if they're still syndicating.

Warren, Jamestown Old Timers Expect Large Crowd Sunday

With the advance ticket sale moving steadily along, and all other preparations completed, everything is in readiness for a record crowd at Wilder Field, Irvine, Sunday afternoon, when the Jamestown and Warren Old Timers will cross bats for the third time, the proceeds going entirely to the United Service Organizations.

The battle will start at 2:30 o'clock over the regulation nine-inning route, as planned at this time.

Familiar faces of the best diamond ball in these parts of twenty years ago will return for a couple of hours Sunday, and it is anticipated that many veteran fans will make an extra effort to be on hand to watch the Old Timers play.

As he did in Jamestown last Saturday night, "Pike" Peterson, if he can possibly play with the team Sunday, will treat the fans to one of his inimitable juggling exhibitions.

"Rabbit" Swanson will lend his humorous antics to the program, and his "horseplay" with the umpires undoubtedly will gain the applause of the crowd.

Tickets will be sold at down town places, various stores on the East, South and West sides of town, as well as in nearby surrounding communities. If any local fans haven't as yet purchased their ducats, this may be done along with the Saturday morning shopping tomorrow. Bright yellow signs in windows where advance tickets are sold will remind the paying public that thirty-five cents will give them an afternoon of entertainment and at the same time aid in building recreation centers for the soldiers now in camps.

Cardinals Pennant Bound, Southworth

St. Louis, Aug. 1—(AP)—If the Cardinals can dodge the injury jinx the rest of the season the club will win the National League pennant, says Manager Billy Southworth.

The team entered the Brooklyn series, which they split to retain their two game lead, with the lineup at full strength for the first time since opening day when Catcher Gus Mancuso was removed with a badly bruised and sprained finger.

"Barring further injuries the Cardinals will win the pennant," Southworth asserted. "It is only because of excellent replacements and because we've really played to win, that the club has stayed on top this long."

Some picture theatres have prolonged hours to attract workers on night shifts, the Department of Commerce says.

Atlantic City Boss Given Ten Years in Prison

The costs of the prosecution also were levied against him.

Johnson surrendered at once to the United States marshal.

During the court proceedings, the 58-year-old Johnson's bride of ten hours, the former Florence Osbeck, 35, remained in the Philadelphia hotel (Drake) where the couple went after the wedding, at which the jovial bridegroom advised his guests: "Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we may go to jail."

Accompanied by his attorney, Walter G. Winne, and a political lieutenant, James Boyd of Atlantic City, Johnson arrived at the Camden county court house, driving his convertible coupe.

Johnson was convicted last Friday on two counts of evading taxes on an income of $124,000 in 1936 and 1937. The government contended, and Johnson admitted, the income was derived mostly from numbers game operators in the resort.

Yesterday, only a few hours before his wedding, he was denied a new trial.

But last night the jovial man who has bossed Republican politics 33 years in the shore resort, worried only about whether his guests were enjoying themselves.

He and Miss Osbeck were married at the First Presbyterian church in Atlantic City, then he was host to hundreds of his followers at his 20-room bungalow, where they ate, drank and were merry.

Extension Bill Still Retarded

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—Congress, immersed in argument and still far from a decision, today passed the army high command's urgent deadline for action on legislation extending the service of Selectees, Reservists and National Guardsmen.

In the Senate, where debate was in its third day, Senators Clark (D-Mo) and Vandenberg (R-Mich) kept up the attacks of a vocal opposition group by charging that to pass the bill would be to make the men in uniform liable to military service "for life."

Administration leaders, however, manifested unshaken confidence that they commanded ample votes for a two-to-one victory on the final showdown which they hoped for some time next week.

The House has yet to take up the measure and, while leaders there were equally confident, some others predicted that it would find a rough they thought changes might even road. Several representatives said be made, necessitating a joint House-Senate conference committee to work out a final compromise.

The situation, it was generally agreed, made it certain that final disposition of the legislation would be delayed well beyond the Aug. 1 deadline fixed by General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.

Ships Detained In Coast Ports

U. S. marshals went aboard the Tatuta Maru and the Heian Maru yesterday with orders to prevent any attempt to sail. New York importers had filed claims for the cargo, which they said were already paid for.

Aboard the Tatuta Maru was a $2,500,000 cargo of raw silk, which the ship arranged to carry back to Japan. Stowed beneath these 5,588 bales were such goods as tea, furs, egg yolks, albumen and straw braid.

A $15,000 libel suit was first filed against the cargo by Arnhold & Co., New York City, and a $30,000 bond was demanded.

Other actions followed quickly. There was the question of how the Japanese could raise the money in view of frozen credits.

MADE UP TO KILL

by Kelley Roos

YESTERDAY: After a lot of excitement, Green Apples has opened. Haila and Jeff have been walking the streets until the morning papers came out, and now they have discovered that the play is a hit. Little Carol, whose voice disappeared and came back just in time for her to play, is also a hit. And Eve North, the star, is mercilessly roasted.

Chapter Five

Poison

SOMEHOW it shocked me. I knew, of course, that Eve wasn't the actress that she had once been, that when her sparkling beauty had begun to fade her talent had oozed away with it, but I had never dreamed she would be received like this.

With every play in the last five years she had lost a little ground, but in Green Apples rock bottom had come up to hit her. Playing with her it was hard to tell if she were good or bad. She was so much the great lady, above all reproach or criticism, that you forgot to think about her acting. She herself took her talent so much for granted that you began to do the same.

I was sorry for Eve North. In spite of a star complex I had found her fine to work with, and once she had been a really great actress.

"Listen to this," Jeff was saying, "'Miss Haila Rogers gives a performance that is both delicate and charming.'"

"I am delicate! So delicate that I'm going right home to bed."

After gathering the papers together to show Carol, we paid our check and went out into the street. There were faint pink streaks in the dark sky and street lights and signboards were popping off. A few people hurried along dodging the spray of the sanitation truck that passed. We walked slowly and the pink light in the sky spread and grew and it was daylight when we reached my apartment. The elevator bell rang hollowly through the silent building when I pressed it, but no Jinx appeared.

"Let him sleep," Jeff said.

"Softie!"

We trudged up the six flights dragging our heels and resting at each landing. I felt above the ledge of the door for the key that Carol was to have left there. The ledge was smooth under my exploring fingers. Sleepily, I rattled the knob and the door swung open. Then I stepped back and reached for Jeff. There was a long thin man asleep on my studio couch.

"It's an overworked burglar," I whispered. "Should I scream or can you take care of him yourself?"

"Scream," Jeff said.

The man stood up. I guess he hadn't been asleep. He looked at me and I saw he had nice gray eyes and a sour looking mouth.

"Miss Haila Rogers?" he asked.

"Uh . . . yes. May I come in?"

"Come in," he said, not very graciously, "and sit down. I'm Peterson. Of the Homicide Bureau."

Questions?

"HOW do you do?" I said charmingly and sat down. Then I stood up again, gaping at him. "Of the what did you say?"

"Peterson," he repeated, "of the Homicide Bureau." He was looking at Jeff. "Who's this?"

"His name is Jeff Troy and he's a very dear friend of mine. And is it rude of me to want to know just how you got in here and what you're doing here and where is my roommate?"

"Sit down." To my surprise I sat down unprotesting. Jeff slouched on the arm of a chair and we waited. Peterson eyed us quietly. "You live here with Carol Blanton?"

"Yes. Or rather, she lives here with me. It's my apartment."

"You're both employed by Clinton Bowers in a play called Green Apples that opened last night at the Colony Theater?"

"Yes."

"How long have you known Miss Blanton?"

"Four, no, five weeks. Since the day we started to rehearse Green Apples."

"And how long has she been living here with you?"

"Five weeks."

"Since the first day you met here?" he grunted, giving me a quick look. "How come?"

"Because she hadn't any other place to live and because she was broke. I invited her to stay with me and she did."

"What do you know about her?"

"Nothing very much. She's a nice girl who wants to be an actress. Why? What's the matter with her?"

He went right on. "What about her private life? Where's her home and her family? Who are her friends?"

"She's from Salt Lake City and she hasn't any family, but she's never told me anything more than just that. And as far as I know she hasn't any friends in New York. Just some friends of mine whom she's met up here in the apartment and of course everyone in Green Apples."

"How long has she been in New York?"

"I don't know exactly. I think about six months."

"Six months? And she met any people?"

"That isn't hard to do," him. "Not when you live in nished room and eat in dru and spend your days around to casting offices."

"What about Lee Gray?"

I frowned. "All right, about him?"

"He's a friend of hers he?"

"I don't know. If he never heard her speak of I've never met him."

Peterson rambled over window and stood jingli coins in his pocket and l out at the morning. He suddenly.

"And you don't know who might want to kill her

I jumped up and then better of it and sank limpl into my chair. "To kill h said. My voice was such thing that it surprised me somebody tried to kill her

He nodded grimly. "And near made a good job of She collapsed in the elevat night and the doctor wh called discovered she had ful of poison. He notified we managed to get her to vue in time. She's going through."

Jeff spoke for the first "What was the poison?"

"Morphine."

"Where did she get it?"

"At the theater. Durin last act. It seems you got in your play where ever drinks a toast. Well, that was when it happened. quarters says there was mor in the glass she drank out the other glasses were O.K."

Jeff let out an explosive "Poisoned on stage! God soned in front of a thousand ple and every one of them ing it. Have you been a trace the poison?"

Peterson scowled. "Trace phine? Not a chance. Every tor in the country keeps a of it in his office, carries an supply in his bag. Every store has it. You can get it hundred different ways." turned to me. "You wo know anything about how morphine got in Miss Bla glass. I don't suppose."

Jeff said, before I could my mouth. "What do you about how it got there?"

Perhaps A Clue

PETERSON reached for a tered hat that lay on the fee table and stuck it on the of his head. "What wou know? I wasn't there. Som who was there will have t me," he said pleasantly went out. The door clicked behind him and I heard his steps fading down the stair gave a long low whistle made as energetic a dive could muster for the teleph called Bellevue. Miss Carol ton's condition, they told me favorable.

"When can I see her? will she be able to leave?

Her condition was very able indeed, they said.

"But I want to know . . .

"Her condition . . ." bega white hospital voice. I hur in disgust and slid the across the desk. Suddenly membered how Carol had cla down the receiver when heard us the night before, re bered her face as she stood w ing Tommy and me in the way. It had been white drawn, not with illness nor the surprise of our being but white with anxiety and s thing very close to fear. And I knew. I grabbed Jeff by shoulders.

"Jeff, listen to me! I know Carol lost her voice, why would give up her first op night! It was because she afraid that something was to happen to her at the th and she wanted to stay awa

"Then why did she finally

"I suppose because we c her phoning and knew she all right. And if she had s refused to play she would lost her job. Oh, the poor fool! If she had only told us

Jeff frowned and shook head. "No, I don't think so, If Carol really thought that s thing was going to happen t that her life was in danger a theater, I can't see her up walking straight into it, job job."

"But this isn't just a job, It's the start of a career, whole new life beginning fo A life in the theater."

"Not if it's going to end the night."

I walked aimlessly around room. "I wish I knew what i all about. One thing I do k Voices don't just snap off a like electric lights. You croak like a frog one minute talk in your ordinary voice next. I don't think there ever anything wrong with Ca I think she lost her voice s wouldn't have to go to the t ter last night but could still her part later on. She d awfully well, but she could. one swell little actress."

"I think I'd like to talk to Bowers about it. What time he get to his office?"

"About eleven usually," I "And just what do you t you're doing?"

He had yanked off his tie was unlacing his shoes.

any year, and to divide this quantity among various producing areas under a quota system. By increasing or reducing the quotas, it usually is able to influence prices.

When it became evident that consumers were buying far beyond their current needs, the department increased the quotas. It hoped this action would at least halt the advance.

The department figured wrong. Prices kept going up. Again it increased the quotas. Further advances followed. A third, and very large increase was made in this week. Marketings under increased quotas are expect total 7,627,563 tons, or abo 000,000 tons more than was sumed last year.

GOOD NEWS FOR AUSTIN

Austin, Aug. 1—(AP)—Hope was renewed here today that Austin may be lifted from the "ghost town" class when a bid for its lone industrial plant was offered by a firm with plans for reviving operations.

Judge Robert Lewis, after opening sealed bids, announced the high bidder was Van Alstyne, Noel and Company, New York investment firm acting as an agent, which proposed to start up the Bayless Pulp and Paper Company. The offer was $170,000.

The once-prosperous paper mill was shut down last September, and had been in the hands of a receiver since 1933.

quarters devoted only two sentences to the whole war with Soviet Russia. It said:

"Battles on the east front continue to develop in our favor.

"Warplanes last night bombarded military objectives in Moscow."

The impression that things are moving to suit the German High Command in the Leningrad sector was bolstered by an announcement by DNB, official German news agency, that a Russian regiment had been wiped out on the narrow strip of land between Lake Peipus and the Baltic while guarding that approach to the city.

Nazi editors, commenting on Russian and British assertions that the German offensive had bogged down, adopted a "wait and see!" attitude.

The authoritative commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland, answering foreign reports that the Nazi forces had not been making much speed lately, declared that more important than winning ground at this stage were the losses being inflicted on the Russian army in both equipment and manpower.

Dienst observed, however, that in 40 days of war in the east the Germans conquered more territory than they seized in 45 days in the west—in fact, it said, territory already occupied by the eastern armies is three times the size of England and northern Ireland.

Information in morning papers concerning developments in the vital Smolensk sector was limited to a DNB report that two Russian regiments recently arrived from Siberia had been annihilated south of Vyazma, which is only about 130 miles west of Moscow.

The agency also reported that the Russians had lost 112 airplanes during the past 24 hours under the smashing blows of the luftwaffe.

interview with Premier Joseph Stalin and later said his conviction that Hitler is going to lose the war had been strengthened.

He told American correspondents: "I have nothing to add to what I said the other day than that my short visit here has given me even more confidence that Hitler is going to lose."

German planes made their eighth nightly foray in 11 nights against Moscow and, as on previous nights, Russians said they were forced back.

It was the second raid against the capital since Hopkins' arrival but the American slept through the air alarm in Spaso House.

Russians claimed victories over sea and land for their planes, saying one flight of dive-bombers attacked two German patrol ships in the Baltic and brought down 15 German planes to eight Soviet losses.

S. A. Lozovsky, vice commissar of foreign affairs, told a press conference that Hopkins' visit "demonstrates once more the determination of the United States to help all peoples fighting for their independence against Nazi barbarism."

Truck Measure Awaits Action by Gov. James

cluding one to give the secretary of internal affairs control over expenditure of money, and jobs in his department, and another appropriating $20,000 for lease of land for the Susquehanna tribe of Indians—which James said had been extinct for 166 years, according to historical commission records.

Earlier in the week James had vetoed other measures to finance restoration of various historical landmarks.

Other developments in the capital included:

1. A sharp expansion of business in Pennsylvania during June followed the lead of heavy industries working on defense orders, said Lewis G. Hines, secretary of labor and industry.

2. WPA national defense training courses, formerly open to men only, were extended to include women by new order of Col. Philip Mathews, state WPA administrator.

3. Milk control commission increased milk retail price from 12 to 13 cents a quart in Erie district.

CONSOLIDATION OF ROYAL PLANT DISCUSSED HERE

At a meeting of a committee from the Warren Chamber of Commerce with officials of the Royal Manufacturing Company, which mainttins a plant on the former Superior Oil Company property here, a proposal for bringing other units of the company here was discussed, although no definite action was taken.

The meeting was held at the Y. W. C. A. following a luncheon this noon.

The Royal Manufacturing Company, which refines white mineral oils for medicinal use, now maintains plants in Duquesne, Chicago and Brooklyn. It is proposed to centralize the industry in one plant here.

If the proposal were carried out, it was stated, approximately 150 persons would be employed here. About 90 per cent of these would be women, according to company officials.

Representing the manufacturers at the meeting was Kolomon Kovacs, president, and several members of the board of directors, who are holding their annual meeting here at the present time.

East Hickory

East Hickory, July 30—Walter Glenn Gesin, son of Mrs. Garnett Gesin, who had been employed as chemist in the laboratory of the Carnegie Illinois Steel Works at Pittsburgh since his graduation from Edinboro State Teachers' College last June, enlisted Tuesday at Erie in the Air Corps as instructor and left Saturday from Pittsburgh for New Cumberland, Pa., in charge of a party of others who had enlisted. After receiving his uniform there, he will entrain for the Jefferson Barracks in Missouri. His mother spent Saturday with him at Pittsburgh, before he left the city. Charles E. Crider, Jr., Mrs. I. M. Fox and Mrs. C. E. Crider, met Walter in Erie, when he took his examination there.

Mrs. Sara Morse, Billy Amsler, of Erie, and Mrs. Amy Riche, of Corry, were weekend guests at the Kribbs home.

Miss Eleween Anderson, who is in training as children's nurse at Homewood Hospital at Philadelphia, called on friends here recently.

Mrs. Roy Matha and children, who have spent three weeks at the home of Mrs. Mary Matha, has returned to her home in Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Grubbs attended evangelistic services at Pine Ridge Sunday afternoon, and at Pleasantville Camp Grounds Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kent, of Ravenna, Ohio, spent the weekend at the Dickey cottage.

Mr. Hultquist and Mrs. Zelma Messenger of Warren were at the Ferguson home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kitelinger of West Hickory, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hurd and children attended a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Black at Bradford, Saturday evening. Mrs. Hurd's mother who was present returned for a further visit with the Hurd family here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, John Carpenter, Mrs. Hilda Wright, Mrs. Henderson and son Rex were among others from here who attended the Old Home day at Kellettville, Saturday.

Walter Wilson, of Sharon and Miss Anna Mae Neal, of Cresson, were over Sunday visitors at the Goodwill home.

Miss Pauline Goodwill is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. John Smith at Reno.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Dingman were at Cooksburg for the week end at the home of Mrs. Dingman's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward. They were present Sunday at the Cook reunion held at Cooksburg.

Rex Henderson, who has been visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. F. J. Henderson, has returned to New York City. He was formerly one of the electricians on the U. S. S. America which was taken by the government later for transport and navy work.

STAHLNECKER HEADS REPUBLICAN FACTION

Harrisburg, Aug. 1—(AP)—P. Stephen Stahlnecker, prominent in Pennsylvania Republican politics for many years, announced today the organization of a group of Republicans to make "a determined and sincere effort to revitalize the Republican party in Pennsylvania."

Stahlnecker, who managed the primary campaign in 1938 of Gifford Pinchot in his bid for a third term as governor, said he resigned his position as chairman of the unemployment compensation board of review for the purpose of joining the group. Stahlnecker's resignation became effective today.

WAGE DIFFERENTIALS ELIMINATION REFUSED

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1—(AP)—Elimination of wage differentials between workers in northern and southern plants of the Aluminum Company of America was refused last night by company officials conferring with leaders of the CIO-Aluminum Workers of America.

After appealing to Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Managament, to intervene in the dispute, N. A. Zonarich, union president, said Hillman called him and the union committee to Washington.

At the lengthy conference with company officials, Zonarich said men doing the same work at Badin, N. C., and Alcoa, Tenn., received from 3 to 18 cents an hour less pay than workers in the company's New Kensington plant.

The company's stand, presented by M. M. Anderson, personnel director, was that the common labor hiring rate in the two southern cities is 55 cents an hour and that the firm "will continue to pay the prevailing wage rate or better."

YOUNGSTERS AT PLEASING PICNIC AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, July 31—Members of the Cradle Roll, Beginners and Primary departments of the Methodist church school and their mothers had a very delightful picnic on Island Park Wednesday afternoon. About fifty kiddies and their parents were present and the youngsters had a merry time with games, a peanut hunt and balloon blowing contest. Miss Lois May Sellin and Betty Jo Zeliff had charge of the children's games. The picnic luncheon was a real treat, closing with ice cream and delicious home made cakes.

SUNSHINE CLUB

The Sunshine Club held their annual picnic on Island Park on Wednesday, when the birthday of Mrs. Ida Henton was remembered. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Ethel Tulley.

AT U. B. CHURCH

The official board of the United Brethren church met at the church on Wednesday evening. Plans were discussed for the coming Sunday school picnic on Island Park.

The election of officers for the church and Sunday school will take place during the church service Sunday morning. During this summer the evening services are being held in the basement, which is much cooler than the auditorium of the church.

A game between the Men's Brotherhood of Warren United Brethren church and the Men's Brotherhood of the local church was scheduled for Thursday afternoon on Island Park.

RAILS MAINTAIN A STRONG FRONT

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Rails managed to maintain a firm front in today's stock market but leading industrials were shaky.

Hesitancy prevailed at the start and, near the final hour, losses of fractions were widespread. There was a handful of wider declines. Offerings were notably light and transfers for the full proceedings were at the rate of approximately 500,000 shares.

Duck eggs: 28-29.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Aug. 1—(AP)—Although corn prices advanced more than two cents at the opening due to increased asking prices on government stocks, wheat continued to decline. Evening up sales in the wheat pit and expectations of a large spring crop estimate later in the day accounted for some of the weakness.

Opening unchanged to ¼ higher, September 1.06¼-⅛, December 1.08¼-⅜, wheat later reacted. Corn was ⅛-2⅛ higher, September 11-76½, December 79.

The Keystone State has 14,031 stations and Bernard Jacoby, head of the Associated Petroleum Dealers of Philadelphia and vicinity and vice president of the Pennsylvania Petroleum Dealers Association, said some dependent chiefly on night sales may have to go out of business.

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. today notified its eastern division managers to close all company-owned and operated service stations in the 13 Atlantic coast states from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m., beginning Sunday, as requested by Petroleum Coordinator Harold Ickes.

"With respect to other stations selling Socony-Vacuum products but not operated by this company," the notice added, "we have of course no control. We are confident, however, that these stations also will cooperate with the coordinator's restrictions."

WALLACE BROADCASTS TALK FROM THE WEST

Burlington, Ia., Aug. 1—(AP)—The preservation of liberty depends on the United States and "we shall not fail," Vice President Wallace declared last night.

In an internationally broadcast address climaxing the formal opening of the $50,000,000 ordnance plant here, the Iowan said "only by developing our might to the utmost, only by demonstrating through every action and attitude that we are completely willing to go to war if necessary, is there any chance for that peace which we so earnestly desire."

WEST POINT IS GIVEN TUMULTUOUS WELCOME

New York, Aug. 1—(AP)—The U. S. Navy transport West Point, docked with 388 passengers, mostly consular service employes, shortly before noon (EST) today amid scenese reminiscent of the first returns of World War soldiers.

Approximately 2,400 relatives and friends lined the pier as the huge camouflaged ship was tied up and a tumultuous cheer arose as soon as those on board were allowed on the pier, embraces mingled with joyful tears reminded observers of early 1919 when returning World War veterans received a like greeting.

MISSIONARY TO BE SPEAKER IN WARREN CHURCH

Through the courtesy and cooperation of the board of foreign missions of the Augustana Synod, the people of Warren are to have an opportunity to hear Miss Esther Olson, who will speak at the St. Paul's Lutheran church on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Olson is one of 19 missionaries of the Augustana Synod en route to African mission fields on board the ship ZamZam when it was fired upon and sunk by a German raider on May 19, this year.

Many denominations were represented in the 180 missionaries aboard, and Miss Olson's story of their rescue, various experiences and final return to America after 40 days as prisoners will be of great interest to many.

Her home is in Jamestown, N. Y., and she is said to be an interesting and most charming speaker, heartily received in her speaking engagements since returning to America on June 30.

All members and friends of St. Paul's church are cordially invited to attend this service.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Ray Milland was studying Spanish on the set. "I just like languages," he explained. Besides English, he speaks French and his native Welsh. Used to know German and Italian but has forgotten them.

Obligingly, he addressed a few sentences to me in Welsh, a tongue which, with due apologies to those interested, these untrained ears found similar to double-talk on a sound track played in reverse.

We talked about Greek, Russian, and Japanese.

"Japanese," said scholar Milland. "There's a language! It doesn't sound like one. Sounds like birds talking."

Then he said something else in Welsh. It wasn't "hut sut on the rillerah," but it might have been for all I knew. . . .

There's a great novelty movie waiting to be made by some producer—just a movie about Singapore minus a shady lady. NAZIS REPORTED STALLED ON WHOLE SOVIET BATTLE FRONT

RED ARMIES SAID TO BE TAKING INITIATIVE ALONG VITAL SECTORS

By the Associated Press

London reports German armies stalled on whole Soviet battlefront, Nazi drive near exhaustion; Moscow says Red Armies taking initiative; Hitler's High Command asserts fighting "continues in our favor;" Harry L. Hopkins sees Stalin, expresses "even more confidence Hitler is going to lose."

Mexico rebukes Germany for "threat" in U. S. blacklist case; Mexican President Avila Camacho clamps down on Nazi-Fascist movement; Argentina tells German ambassador to re-export or destroy short-wave radio transmitter.

Japan reported demanding military bases in Thailand; British fear new Japanese threats to Singapore, Burma; Tokyo announces new credit agreement with Thailand, indicating Japan hit by British-United States credit freezings.

Moscow Statement

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, Aug. 1—(AP)—The battle of Smolensk, gateway to Moscow, entered its seventeenth day today with the Russians apparently taking the initiative to force back the Germans at some points.

The Russian air force, which the Germans had announced destroyed cooperated with land troops to counter-attack the German positions in the Smolensk direction.

The Russians asserted that Smolensk—which the Germans claimed they captured two weeks ago—was still in the defenders' hands. After fighting off 42 German attacks since July 16 the Russians took the initiative.

This afternoon's communique said that sharp fighting had continued throughout the night in the Smolensk sector and said other battles were raging in the zones of Zhitomir, west of Kiev, and Novorzhev, 200 miles south of Leningrad.

It made no mention, however, of action at Porkhov, 50 miles north of Novorzhev, where fighting had been reported yesterday.

In addition to smashing at German ground forces and communications, the Red air force was reported to have sunk a destroyer in the baltic and severely damaged two other ships.

In Moscow, Harry L. Hopkins, U. S. lend-lease administrator, talked three hours in his second

Berlin Communique

Berlin, Aug. 1—(AP)—German forces have wiped out Red Army units encircled south of Smolensk and captured 35,000 prisoners and 245 cannon, DNB, the official news agency, reported today.

It said the Russians also lost tens of thousands killed in this action in the salient which the Germans have plunged through the Stalin line toward Moscow. The Russian forces first were surrounded, then destroyed yesterday, DNB said.

This apparently was far in the rear of advance units which the Germans have reported as far east as the vicinity of Vyazma, about 130 miles from Moscow, and in an area where Soviet forces were said to have been cut up and pocketed in isolated groups.

On the far southern front, DNB admitted that Red Army forces temporarily drove a wedge between German and Rumanian troops, but it said attempts to widen the gap into a break-through "collapsed with bloody Bolshevik losses."

Berlin, Aug. 1.—(AP)—A High Command communique of extraordinary brevity reported steady progress on the eastern front today as Germans, stirred by other war advices, waited to hear that German armies might soon be hammering at the very gates of Leningrad.

Reverting again to a broad-picture, barren of any detail, the bulletin from Adolf Hitler's head-

PERU-ECUADOR LINE DISPUTE TERMINATES

Lima, Peru, Aug. 1—(AP)—Peruvian parachute troops were reported today to have captured the Ecuadorean cities of Puerto Bolivar and Machala only a few hours before a truce ended three weeks of border war between the two countries at 6 o'clock last evening.

Introduction of European blitzkrieg tactics for the first time in the western hemisphere was disclosed in a Peruvian communique which claimed a brilliant victory over Ecuador's armed forces.

Before the cease-fire order was given, the communique said, Peruvian troops had regained all territory seized by the Ecuadorian army since July 6, when a 100-year-old boundary dispute flared into open war.

Swiss Celebrate 650 Years of Independence

Schwyz, Switzerland, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Cannon roared in salute rather than in battle and fires burned for freedom rather than destruction today as the people of this Alpine country celebrated 650 years of independence.

Lights blazed during the night, making this town and the surrounding countryside the only bright spot in war-darkened central Europe. Blackout restrictions are to be lifted throughout the nation tonight when celebration of the anniversary moves into full swing.

Throughout the night and during today runners carried to all parts of the nation torches kindled at a traditional bonfire in nearby Ruetli Glade.

GUNBOAT ATTACK IS CONSIDERED CLOSED INCIDENT

WILL PAY INDEMNITIES

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—The Japanese bombing of the gunboat Tutuila was marked a closed incident in the State Department today, but concern in congress over the Far Eastern situation caused talk of delaying independence for the Philippines indefinitely.

Acting Secretary of State Welles, after conferring with President Roosevelt, announced last night that the United States had accepted the official apologies of the Japanese government for the attack on the U. S. gunboat near Chungking, China, Wednesday.

The apologies, he disclosed, were accompanied by an offer to pay indemnities for the damage the ship suffered, and by assurance that measures would be taken to prevent the recurrence of such incidents in the future.

Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, Japanese ambassador who delivered the apologies, left the State Department telling newsmen, "I'm doing my best to iron out difficulties and maintain good relations between your country and my country."

In the Senate today, however, the recent Japanese thrust into Indo-China brought the future status of the Philippines into question. Under the present law, the commonwealth of the Philippines would become a sovereign republic on July 4, 1946.

Senator Austin (R-Vt), acting minority leader, said in an interview that "the entire Philippine question should be re-examined in the light of recent events. I be-

KILLED IN CRASH

Scranton, Aug. 1—(AP)—Miss Cora Lovering, 50, bookkeeper at the Scranton State Hospital and a member of one of Scranton's best known families, was killed last night when the auto she was driving left the highway near Tunkhannock during a rainstorm and plunged over an embankment. Mrs. William Cullough, Clarks Summit, wife of a retired banker, and Mrs. George Herron, New York City, who were riding with Miss Lovering, suffered injuries and were removed to the state hospital here.

OLD LAWYER DIES

SHIPS DETAINED IN COAST PORTS

San Francisco, Aug. 1—(AP)—Her passengers aboard and all gangplanks up but one, the crack Japanese liner Tatuta Maru was ready today to streak for home, awaiting a release by the U. S. Department of Justice that would permit her to sail despite libel suits against her valuable cargo.

The Nipponese liner Heian Maru, meantime, was posted to sail at 3 p. m. from Seattle, similar suits against her cargo having reportedly been settled, and the liner Asama Maru docked at Honolulu after delaying her arrival six days because of strained Japanese-American relations.

NORTH INDO-CHINA IS FRIENDLY TO THE U. S.

Saigon, Indo-China, Aug. 1—(AP)—As Japanese troops continued to pour into southern Indo-China, the press at Hanoi, French capital in the north, today began to exhibit a friendly disposition to the United States.

The newspapers, in presumably inspired articles, described U. S. Far Eastern policy as far-sightedly aware of Japanese danger and sympathetic to France and the French empire. They contrasted this with what was termed the declining British Far Eastern policy since 1931.

At Saigon Japanese bombers and fighters filled the skies and the government controlled press commented that "the Japanese have landed and the British threat to Indo-China is ended."

Latest A. P. War Bulletins

Rome, Aug. 1—(AP)—German planes again bombed the besieged British stronghold of Tobruk, Libya, last night after a day of artillery exchanges, the Italian high command reported today. The Italians said British aircraft had again raided the Fascist base at Bengasi, Libya, killing one civilian.

Moscow, Aug. 1—(AP)—A German destroyer was sunk in the Baltic and two other ships were badly damaged, the Soviet information bureau said in a military communique today.

Helsinki, Finland, Aug. 1—(AP)—The recently pro-British newspaper Helsingin Sanomat called the alliance of Great Britain and Soviet Russia a "mockery of fate" today and deplored RAF participation in Wednesday's bombing of Petsamo.

Vichy, Unoccupied France, Aug. 1—(AP)—Regulations putting teeth into laws banning Jews from a long list of professions and forbidding them to dispose of their property to forestall Aryanization went into force today. Prefectures now will set deadlines for Jews to hand in working cards.

Berlin, Aug. 1—(AP)—The German-administered government general of Poland annexed territory today in the vicinity of Lwow, which had been under Russian rule under the 1939 Russian-German treaties, DNB stated in a dispatch from Krakow.

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 1—(AP)—The RAF today reported that Bengasi, Italian base on the Libyan coast, was attacked Wednesday by British heavy bombers which set several fires, "one of which was visible 50 miles away."

London, Aug. 1—(AP)—Robert Montgomery, American motion picture actor, arrived in London today in the uniform of a naval lieutenant as the latest edition to the growing staff of naval attaches at the United States embassy.

Tokyo, Aug. 1—(AP)—Domei, Japanese news agency, today quoted Japanese embassy sources in Moscow as saying that Siberian railroads were crowded with refugees fleeing from Leningrad and other cities in the path of the German offensive.

THREE DIE IN PENNSY ACCIDENT

BUFFALO-WASHINGTON SPECIAL IS INVOLVED

Williamsport, Aug. 1—(AP)—A Pennsylvania railroad freight train early today hurled a stalled truck onto an adjoining track, derailing a passenger train locomotive and killing three of its occupants.

Crushed to death as the locomotive and its coal tender plunged down a six-foot embankment were Engineer F. E. Snyder, Northumberland, Pa., Fireman H. F. McHenry, Sunbury, Pa., and C. K. Shaibley, of Williamsport, road foreman of engines, who was on an inspection trip.

Three baggage and mail cars of the Washington-Buffalo passenger train were yanked off the tracks, but remained on the right of way. None of the passenger coaches left the rails. All occupants were reported to have escaped injury.

The wreck occurred at 1:20 a. m. (EST), 23 miles east of here near Watsontown in Northumberland county.

Four men transporting a steam shovel over a rural route in a trailer truck said after their machine stalled they tried in vain to flag the freight as it sped from Altoona to Wilkes-Barre.

O. A. Long, fireman on the freight, said the locomotive sheared off the cab of the truck which burst into flames and was carried 200 yards in front of the engine before being dumped onto the adjoining track in front of the northbound passenger.

Long said when he saw the passenger approaching, he and Brakeman Pat Murphy, also of Tyrone, jumped from the freight and ran ahead in a futile effort to halt the oncoming train. Victims were pinned under the wrecked locomotive and all were dead when removed by Watsontown firemen.

Three cars near the front of the freight buckled after collision with the truck, but none of the crew members was injured. The engineer was L. C. Zindle, of Tyrone.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE HIGHLY PRAISES SOVIET DEFENSE

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—President Roosevelt asserted today that Russia's resistance to the Axis war machine was "magnificent" and "frankly better than any military expert in Germany thought it would be."

That was his reply at a press conference—he authorized direct quotes—to an inquiry on what he thought of Russian resistance to date. He said:

"It is magnificent and frankly better than any military expert in Germany thought it would be."

When a reporter, referring to Adolf Hitler, asked whether Mr. Roosevelt included Germany's outstanding military expert among those surprised at the Russian resistance, the president suggested that newsmen not spoil the story.

A laugh was his only response to another question—whether Germany had been doing some tall lying.

The chief executive said that Russia did not come under terms of the lease-lend bill and he saw no prospect that she would.

SIXTEEN RESCUED AT SEA LAND AT LISBON

Lisbon, Portugal, Aug. 1—(AP)—Sixteen survivors of the 3,433-ton British freighter Holmside were landed here today by the Portuguese freighter Saudades, which picked them up from a raft in the Atlantic ocean off the Cape Verde Islands.

Members of the Saudades' crew said the rescued seamen were in desperate condition for want of food and water and were surrounded by scores of sharks when their raft was found.

MEXICO TURNS DOWN REQUEST FROM GERMANY

Action on Protest of President's Blacklist Provides Evidence of Intention of Nation to Co-operate With Washington

RESENTS INTERFERENCE

Mexico City, Aug. 1—(AP)—Mexico, rejecting with a stern rebuke a German government request that she protest President Roosevelt's blacklist of pro-Axis firms here, provided tangible evidence today of her intention to cooperate with the United States in solving mutual problems created by the European war.

Mexico told Germany she regarded the request as not only imperious, but threatening, and declared she would brook no interference from abroad in the formulation of her national policies.

She took exception particularly to the German assertion that "resigned acceptance" of Washington's anti-Axis measures could not fail to influence the attitude of the Berlin government in renewing commercial relations with Mexico after the war.

This warning, declared Mexican Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla, "reveals by the sole fact of its being formulated a position of pressure, imperious and unjustifiable, which constitutes an open contradiction to the spirit of reciprocal respect which governs the foreign relations of the Mexican republic."

The German request on the Washington blacklist and Mexico's answer were disclosed last night with the publication of notes exchanged between Padilla and the Nazi minister, Rudt von Collenberg.

In his note, dated July 28, von Collenberg referred to the blacklist as "unjust and transcendental," asserted it violated "the liberty of commerce nd even the sovereignty of Mexico" and declared it is the

Despite Government Assurances Supplies are Ample Record-Breaking Buying Continues to Force Prices Skyward

SHORTAGE DISCOUNTED

BY OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—Apparently fearful that the war may cause shortages, American consumers have engaged in another sugar-hoarding spree, but it may backfire on them.

Despite government assurances that supplies were ample, officials said today that housewives, candy-makers, manufacturers of other products requiring sugar, wholesalers and retailers have bought sugar at a record breaking rate this year to build up reserve stocks for use in case of a scarcity or stratosphere prices.

This heavy buying activity had one natural result—a sharp rise in prices. Today these prices are the highest since the war's start in 1939, when a similar epidemic of hoarding led the government to take drastic action to check the advance. Raw sugar is being quoted at about $3.60, duty-paid basis, per hundred pounds at New York.

Under a sugar control law, the Agriculture Department has the power to say how much sugar may be marketed in this country in

ATLANTIC CITY BOSS GIVEN TEN YEARS IN PRISON

Camden, N. J., Aug. 1—(AP)—Enoch L. (Nucky) Johnson, Atlantic City Republican leader who married a former showgirl at his home in the resort city last night, was sentenced today to 10 years in prison and fined $20,000 on a federal court conviction of income tax evasion.

Sentence was pronounced by Judge Albert B. Maris.

Demands Reported Made on Thailand

By the Associated Press

London, Aug. 1.—Japan has demanded military bases in Thailand and control of that country's rubber, rice and tin production, it was reported authoritatively here today. Japan was said to have offered in exchange restoration of the province of Laos and the ancient city of Angkor, both in Japanese-dominated French Indo-China.

It was believed in London that Thailand's only alternative to granting bases would be forcible Japanese occupation of them.

(Tokyo announced today an agreement between Japan and Thailand under which Japan gained a large credit for purchases in Thailand, mostly rice, it is presumed.)

The Royal Air Force has been strengthened in Burma, the Air Ministry announced today, with construction of airdromes "for both offensive and defensive actions."

TRUCK MEASURE AWAITS ACTION BY GOV. JAMES

FIVE MORE VETOED

Harrisburg, Aug. 1—(AP)—Governor James concentrated efforts today to clear his desk of legislation left by the 1941 session, but failed to give any inkling of his attitude toward the measure to increase the maximum weight of trucks on Pennsylvania roads—one of the most controversial in the lot.

The bill would raise the weight limit from 39,000 pounds—the maximum since 1923—to 42,100 pounds, the figure set by a conference committee of senators and representatives after months of debate. Senator Anthony J. Cavalcante (D-Fayette) stirred up one of the most heated arguments of the seven-month session with lobbying accusations against backers of the bill, which also reduces the registration fees for lighter trucks and passenger buses.

The latter item, it was estimated today, would cost the state approximately $300,000 in revenue.

James vetoed five more bills, in-

"LITTLE STEEL" WILL DRAFT UNION POLICIES

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1—(AP)—CIO-Steel Workers Organizing Committee union presidents in plants of Bethlehem, Republic, Inland and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Companies have been summoned to meet here August 14 to outline union policies.

About 150,000 workers are employed by the "little steel" group, against which the union waged an unsuccessful strike in 1937. Bethlehem Steel recently agreed to negotiate and sign union contracts in plants where the union proved majority membership. Elections at Bethlehem plants in Johnstown, Leetsdale and Rankin, Pa., Lackawanna, N. Y., and two Los Angeles branches were won by the SWOC.

PREPARE FOR FUEL BLACKOUT

In Face of Predictions That Nightly Closing of Service Stations in Atlantic Seaboard Would Cause Unemployment, Secretary Ickes and Oil Industry Perfect Plans to Apply Curfew Beginning Sunday Night

RATIONING MAY BE THE NEXT STEP TAKEN

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—In the face of predictions that the nightly closing of service stations in Atlantic seaboard states would cause unemployment, Secretary of Interior Ickes and the oil industry perfected plans today to apply the curfew next Sunday, with more drastic action to conserve motor fuel supplies indicated should this blackout fail.

Oil men accepted the proclamation closing down an estimated 100,000 gasoline stations from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m., seven days a week, as showing Ickes' determination to meet the predicted eastern fuel shortage, even to the extent of adopting rationing, if need developed.

Ickes, who is defense petroleum coordinator, said in announcing the curfew yesterday that if the new step failed to cut consumption precipitately, "it then must be followed by other steps to accomplish our ends."

In New York, Louis Kimmel, manager of the gasoline merchants of Brooklyn and Queens, estimated that the night shutdowns would cost 100,000 men their jobs—10,000 in metropolitan New York alone. Further, he said he believed the curfew could not be made fully effective without a government order.

Ickes said yesterday, however, that the oil companies themselves had recommended the night closing program, and indicated that he expected those companies would see that any recalcitrant dealers fell into line. While he expressed doubt that the government had authority to prosecute stations which failed to close, Ickes added that cooperation of the industry should obviate any need for attempted court action.

He said he saw no serious unemployment in the offing as a result of the station closing.

Philadelphia, Aug. 1—(AP)—Doubt was expressed today as to whether closing of service stations would result in substantial lower-

Harriman Flies Home To Report to Chief

London, Aug. 1—(AP)—W. Averell Harriman, co-ordinator of the U. S. aid-to-Britain program, has left England by plane for the United States to report to President Roosevelt.

Harriman's departure was disclosed by the United States embassy, but the announcement failed to say exactly when he left or when he was expected to return. He was accompanied by his assistant, Robert Meikeljohn.

It was Harriman's first trip home since he came to London March 15.

He had a hurried meeting with Harry L. Hopkins, administrator of the lease-lend program, before the latter left for Moscow earlier this week.

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—Senate and House conferees today scheduled for final action next week a nation-wide flood control bill which includes three in Pennsylvania—on the Susquehanna river at Sunbury, on the Allegheny river near Warren and the Stillwater reservoir on the Lackawanna river.

The bill as amended provides for a general Susquehanna river plan to include works at Sunbury at an estimated cost of $1,900,000 and the Stillwater reservoir at an estimated cost of $2,420,000. The reservoir project was inserted by the Senate and agreed to by House leaders.

The bill, which authorizes $45,000,000 for a comprehensive flood control plan for the upper Ohio river watershed, provides specifically for the flood control dam and reservoir on the Allegheny above Kinzua in Warren county.

Army engineers have estimated the cost of this multiple-purpose project at $35,000,000. It would be the largest of a series of flood control projects designed to protect western Pennsylvania from flood waters.

In addition to flood control, the dam will provide for pollution abatement and carry equipment for eventual hydro-electric power development.

Western Pennsylvania flood control advocates have contended that the Allegheny reservoir would provide a source of constant fresh water for domestic use for communities below the dam.

MODERATOR TO BE SPEAKER AT NORTH WARREN

Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, moderator of the 153rd General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, will be the speaker at the North Warren Presbyterian church on Sunday evening at eight o'clock, it was announced today by the Rev. J. H. Cruickshank, pastor.

Dr. Smith has been for 10 years a member of the permanent judicial commission of the church and for a quarter century the pastor of Immanuel church of Los Angeles.

He was born in St. Louis county, Mo., August 7, 1883. He represents one of four successive generations of Presbyterian ministers. His father was the Rev. Dr. Joseph Addison Smith, pastor for 12 years in Baltimore; his grandfather was the Rev. William Addison Smith, a home missionary in Texas; and his son, the Rev. Herbert Booth Smith, Jr., is also a Presbyterian pastor. A second son, James Comfort Smith, is expected to begin his theological seminary training this fall.

Dr. Smith's education was obtained in the public schools of Baltimore; Smith Academy, St. Louis; Washington University, St. Louis, and Princeton Theological Seminary. He was ordained to the Presbyterian ministry in 1909. His first pastorate was the North Presbyterian church of Rochester, N. Y. In 1912 he went to Knoxville, Tenn., as pastor of the Second church, and in 1916 to Immanuel church, Los Angeles, now the second largest Presbyterian church in the United States.

Dr. Smith is a writer as well as a preacher and has published several books.

KERCHOO TIME!

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg "It's time again . . . (kerchoo) . . . to call attention . . . (kerchoo) . . . to the fact that the hay fever season is just around the corner and in Pennsylvania that's something to reckon with."

Along about August 15th that unfortunate group of hay fever sufferers starts to sneeze and don't stop until frost.

In those late weeks of summer, ragweed—chief reason for hay fever—spreads its pollen from Lake Erie to the Delaware river and the trek to the mountains and the seashore for relief starts.

The annual epidemic—it's as regular as elections and taxes—is of little concern to the state government at Harrisburg ordinarily for the Department of Health appropriates no funds for research. The medicos in the department say frankly they wouldn't know how to cure it and about all they could do would be to take a pollen count so they could say where conditions were at their worst.

One branch of the government steps out of its road, however, to do something for the poor sniffler, and at the same time give our neighboring town of Kane a big boost. The Department of Commerce sends a notice to all automobile club magazines in the nation recommending one place in Pennsylvania where relief can be had—the town of Kane, atop the Allegheny plateau in oil-producing McKean county.

IF LENINGRAD FALLS

"Berlin's quiet insistence that Leningrad is about to fall compels our attention," says DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press war analyst. "This former glittering capital of the czars is the second city of all the Russias, and one of the most important of the Soviet defensive centers. It's loss would be a grave blow to the Bolshevists and would create an immediate threat to the entire structure of the Stalin defenses."

MacKenzie believes that it would be well to regard the situation with reserve, pending developments, but feels the matter is insistent enough to call for a re-examination of what it will mean if the Hitlerites and their Finnish allies do get possession of this great industrial city of 3,200,000 inhabitants. Here are some of the vital points he cites for consideration:

Leningrad is Russia's sole remaining port on the Baltic. It is the bridge-head for a network of railroads which extend into the country in all directions.

Capture of Leningrad would cut the Soviet Union off from its naval forces in the Baltic altogether, leaving this homeless and wandering navy to the mercy of German men-of-war and bombers.

Not only does Leningrad give Russia her all-important access to the Baltic, but it is one of the greatest industrial centers of the Soviet. Here among many other products are manufactured munitions of war, machinery of all sorts, chemicals and rubber.

But apart from what Leningrad means in itself, its capture would at once produce the menace of a German-Finnish turning movement against the Stalin line, which has its right flank anchored on the port of Leningrad. This menace would be multiplied if the Nazis at the same time pressed their assault on the center of the Stalin line in the Smolensk area.

Now, of course, we don't know what the plans of the Russian command are to meet such a situation. It would be a seven days' wonder, however, if the Reds hadn't worked out a very definite line of strategy.

Having foreseen war with Germany, they have for years been preparing for just such an emergency.

So far as concerns the defense of the city proper, it is supposed by foreign military circles to be a giant fortress, but naturally, details are lacking. Certainly it is no secret that it is defended on the Baltic side by the great naval base of Kronstadt, which is heavily fortified.

The land side of the metropolis is understood to be guarded by strategically placed fortifications and artillery. Apart from this the entire manpower of the city has been trained for eventualities, and the forces of the regular army and air fleet there must be very strong.

One would expect the Bolshevists to make such a fierce defense as to produce actual hand-to-hand fighting with cold steel.

The most encouraging thing about today's war news is that the Russians claim the Nazis are halted and Hitler isn't denying it.

August seems to have brought along with her a welcome drop in temperature over what July had to offer.

• EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Aug. 1--It looked for a time as though the now vast and still growing Rural Electrification Administration might be sacrificed in the interests of national defense, but by dint of some close figuring, plus a slight shift in the objectives of the REA job to tie it in more closely with defense, the $100 million appropriation for this fiscal year will all be used.

REA's main problem has been to get an allocation of metal. REA lines are now about half aluminum and half copper. Aluminum is out for the duration, but it is a safe bet now that REA will get the 73,000 tons of steel and the 67,000 tons of copper for 305,000 miles of wire, the 3000 tons of zinc needed for the two million poles that will be needed to carry the program into the fall of 1942.

You might not think that the expansion of a rural electrification program had anything to do with national defense, but REA fits into the picture like this:

First, a big campaign is on to prove that "food will win the war." Anything that helps in the production of food, helps win the war. Electrification of farms helps increase the production of food. Electrification of farms therefore helps win the war.

Second, there is a shortage of power, particularly in some regions. REA figures by taking a good part of its appropriation and putting it into steam or diesel generating stations, strategically located, it can alleviate this power shortage. Then, when the war is over, these power stations will be available to feed into new rural distribution systems until the country is covered.

For dumb city fellers, and for boys who left the farm before this wonderful age of rural electrification began, it may have to be explained how this juice is used. Take dairy products, for which there is now an extra demand from Britain: Electricity runs the milking machines, water pumps for the stock, separators and refrigerator systems to keep the milk from spoiling.

Take poultry: A farmer who doesn't have electric lights in the hen houses, to make the biddies work overtime and all the time, simply can't compete with modern neighbors who do. Take truck farms: Hot beds are no longer heated by manure, but by electricity.

Incidentally, REA through the U. S. Film Service, achieved something of an artistic triumph recently through its documentary movie, "Power and the Land," which explained all this. It's as good as the much discussed "Plow That Broke the Plains" and "The River." In the REA contribution, Director Joris Ivens looked around till he found a natural cast of actors in Bill and Hazel Parkinson and their family, of Belmont county, Ohio.

Ivens filmed the home life of the Parkinsons, B. E.—before electrification. Coal oil lamps, hand milking, baths in a tin tub, soured milk in the romantic but inefficient spring house. Then the life of the Parkinsons, A. E.—after electrification. Lights all over the place. Hot and cold running water. Shower baths. Milking machines and electric iceboxes. Radio, electric stove and all the other luxuries.

REA opened up shop in 1935 with a $14 million appropriation. At that time, it was estimated that only 743,000 of the 6,800,000 U. S. farms had electricity. Since then, and up to June 1, REA has had appropriations of $374 million. It has strung 354,000 miles of wire, it has 60 generating plants of its own, costing $11 million. House wiring and plumbing cost $7 million and distribution systems $348 million.

It has advanced loans to 824 cooperatives with 1,170,000 customers, and the acreages on loans is less than 33 cents per $1000—a good record to any bank. The money is therefore coming back, with the exception of the $4 million annual administration costs, which the Department of Agriculture appropriation contributes and writes off.

The over-all farm electrification picture today is that two million out of the six million farms are now wired, a 300 per cent increase in six years.

REA distribution systems buy 588 million kilowatts from private and government plants and they generate 45 million kilowatts of their own. These REA power

• STORIES IN STAMPS

Agriculture Is Chile's Most Important Industry

AGRICULTURE is Chile's largest industry. The country is practically self-supporting in respect to food, although large quantities of rice, sugar and beef are still imported.

Production is primitive and not intensive. There are approximately 95 million acres of arable land, of which only 2,300,000 are sown.

The government of Chile recognized its agricultural workers with the 1939 stamp above.

The fruit industry has developed, especially in the region around Valparaiso. Fresh, dried, canned and preserved fruits are exported. Peaches, pears, plums, apricots and melons are grown. Apples, the most important crop in the south, strawberries, raspberries, loganberries and currants flourish.

Vegetables of all sorts, tobacco and cotton are cultivated. Chilean livestock is extensive. The cattle are killed for home consumption, and the hides exported.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1921

The matter of a location for the proposed sub-high school building and the regulation of school dances were the foremost matters discussed at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday evening.

Improvements are being made at the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument under the direction of the Park Committee of the D. A. R. The improvements are fast taking shape and have progressed enough to give some idea of what is being contemplated for the site.

By defeating the strong Struthers-Wells team by a score of 8 to 3 on high school diamond last evening, the Refiners demonstrated that they are in the running for honors in the second half of the league schedule

There was a ripple of excitement at noon today at Carver street and Pennsylvania avenue. Charles Tingwall driving a conveyance brushed against a car driven by Charles Enos and marred the finish of the machine to some extent.

Mrs. F. B. Jackson and Mrs. O. S. Brown will entertain this evening at half after six o'clock at the Warren Outing Club at a four-course dinner.

An airplane is reported to have passed over this section in a northerly direction shortly after noon Monday.

In 1931

Two service stations on the East Side, the Cities Service and Carlson Service Station, were broken into some time during last night by some person or persons whom police have not been able to locate, but the culprits were unrewarded for their efforts.

Benny Bowers, popular pilot and manager of the Warren Airways airport, who has been here for almost a year, has decided to return to his home in Greenville, where he has a well-established business. He has made a host of friends here through his courteous management of the field.

The Warren Pennsylvanians took it on the chin to the tune of 6 to 4 at the hands of the Corry Merchants Saturday afternoon at Russell Field. Joe Gardner was by far the most consistent hitter for the locals, getting a single each of the first three times at the plate.

Mrs. Clara Gildersleeve, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Oliphant and William Smith left Wednesday by motor for Mrs. Gildersleeve's camp at East Machias, Me.

Friends of Mrs. Grace Siggins are complimenting her today on receiving a third place in the Erie horse show with her Colonel Chenault.

A moon that is between half moon and full is known as a "gibbous moon."

PICTURE PEOPLE

It's hard to keep up with Hollywood, and even people who live there may be three jumps behind on the doings of the various stars. How much do you know about the private lives of the people in pictures?

1. What radio-screen crooner has recently taken up ventriloquism, and what does he call his dummy?
2. What does the "B" stand for in Cecil B. DeMille?
3. Who would you say is going to appear in the film "Capt. Horatio Hornblower," W. C. Fields, Errol Flynn, Shirley Temple or Charles Winninger?
4. Why has Lionel Barrymore played his roles in the Dr. Kildare and other pictures in a wheel chair?
5. Who is the actress said to be filling Marie Dressler's shoes as a teammate for Wallace Beery?

FUNNY BUSINESS

EARLY AD COPY MEANS GOOD COMPOSITION AND A CHANCE FOR BEST POSITION

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—There's a common expression — "I had the floor jerked out from under me"—and it applies to an actual incident in the House of Representatives. Here's the story:

Said the speaker pro tem: "Under a previous order of the House, the Gentleman from Alabama (Mr. Luther Patrick, a Birmingham Democrat) is recognized for 30 minutes."

Mr. Patrick: "Mr. Speaker, I should like to have you remember that this cry was raised by the Republicans and not by the Democrats. I just did not think it would be fair for us Democrats to sit around and let the Republicans get away with the pretense that they were building the national defense, etc."—one minute and 10 seconds.

Mr. Keefe (R.-Wis.): "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. Patrick: "It will be a whole lot better for both of us if I yield later.

Mr. Keefe: "I want the gentleman to yield at that point."

Mr. Patrick: "Make a note of it. We will talk about it later!" (Two seconds.)

Mr. James W. Mott (R-Oregon): "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for an inquiry?"

Cites Record

Mr. Patrick: "I want to state that the gentleman standing over there has a good national defense record. . . . I will not yield at this time however."

Mr. Mott: "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for an inquiry?"

Mr. Patrick: "No; I do not yield for an inquiry."

Mr. Mott: "I wanted to inquire at what point——"

Mr. Patrick: "If the gentleman will hold up his inquiry, no doubt it will be answered. . . ." (For 9 seconds.)

Mr. Mott: "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Patrick: "Congressman Mott of Oregon, who has not been here long enough to catch on to how his Republican brothers operate. . . ." (For 11 seconds.)

Mr. J. William Ditter (R-Pa.): "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Patrick: "No, I cannot yield to the gentleman now. I wish I could. Do not beg me because you will break my heart. . . ."

Mr. Ditter: "Mr. Speaker will the gentleman yield in view of the conversation we had over the telephone?"

Mr. Patrick. "If I yield to the gentleman, he will run off. . . ."

Mr. Mott: "Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?"

Mr. Patrick: "No; I will yield at the end of my speech, but not now. . . ." (Two seconds.)

Mr. Mott: "Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order that there is not a quorum present. . . ."

Mr. Patrick: "That will suit me; get a quorum call, and we shall have more folks here. I should have known they would commence hollering."

Mr. Speaker: "Evidently there is no quorum present."

Two Possible Motions

(At this point there are two motions, according to the rules of order, which may be offered. The first is a motion for a quorum—that is, calling all available members into the House. The second motion takes precedence over the first. It is the motion to adjourn.)

Mr. Lawrence Lewis (D.-Colo.): "Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn."

And it did.

That is what is known as getting the floor jerked right out from under you. Thirty minutes Mr. Patrick had and—count it up—he didn't get three.

Although he was purple in the face several times while this parliamentary blitzkrieg was in progress, when it was all over, strolling down the Capitol corridor, Mr. Patrick said: "Never mind, it has happened before. I'll make my speech eventually—and without interruption."

CIVIL SERVICE

Lockmen may file applications for the civil service examination now open for this position in the Pittsburgh, Pa., Engineer District, the United States Civil Service commission announced today. Applicants must show that they can swim and row a boat skillfully, and that they have had at least six months of river experience on locks and dams, or on or about boats navigating or performing work on canalized rivers. River experience will include the following: Deckhand or watchman on steam, gasoline, or oil engine-propelled boats, dredges, derrick-boats, sand diggers, etc., or actual employment in any lock or dam operations, or on construction or repair of river structures by means of a floating plant, or the operation of launches; or laboring experience assisting in the operation of the locks or dams. The wage rate for Lockmen in the Pittsburgh, Pa., Engineer District is $1500 a year. Applications must be on file with the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Engineer Department at Large, 925 New Federal Building, Pittsburgh, Penna. before the close of business on August 28, 1941. Copies of the announcements and application forms may be secured from the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, 1018 New Federal Building, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, from the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Engineer Department at Large, 925 New Federal Building, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at first-and second-class post offices in the vicinity of Pittsburgh.

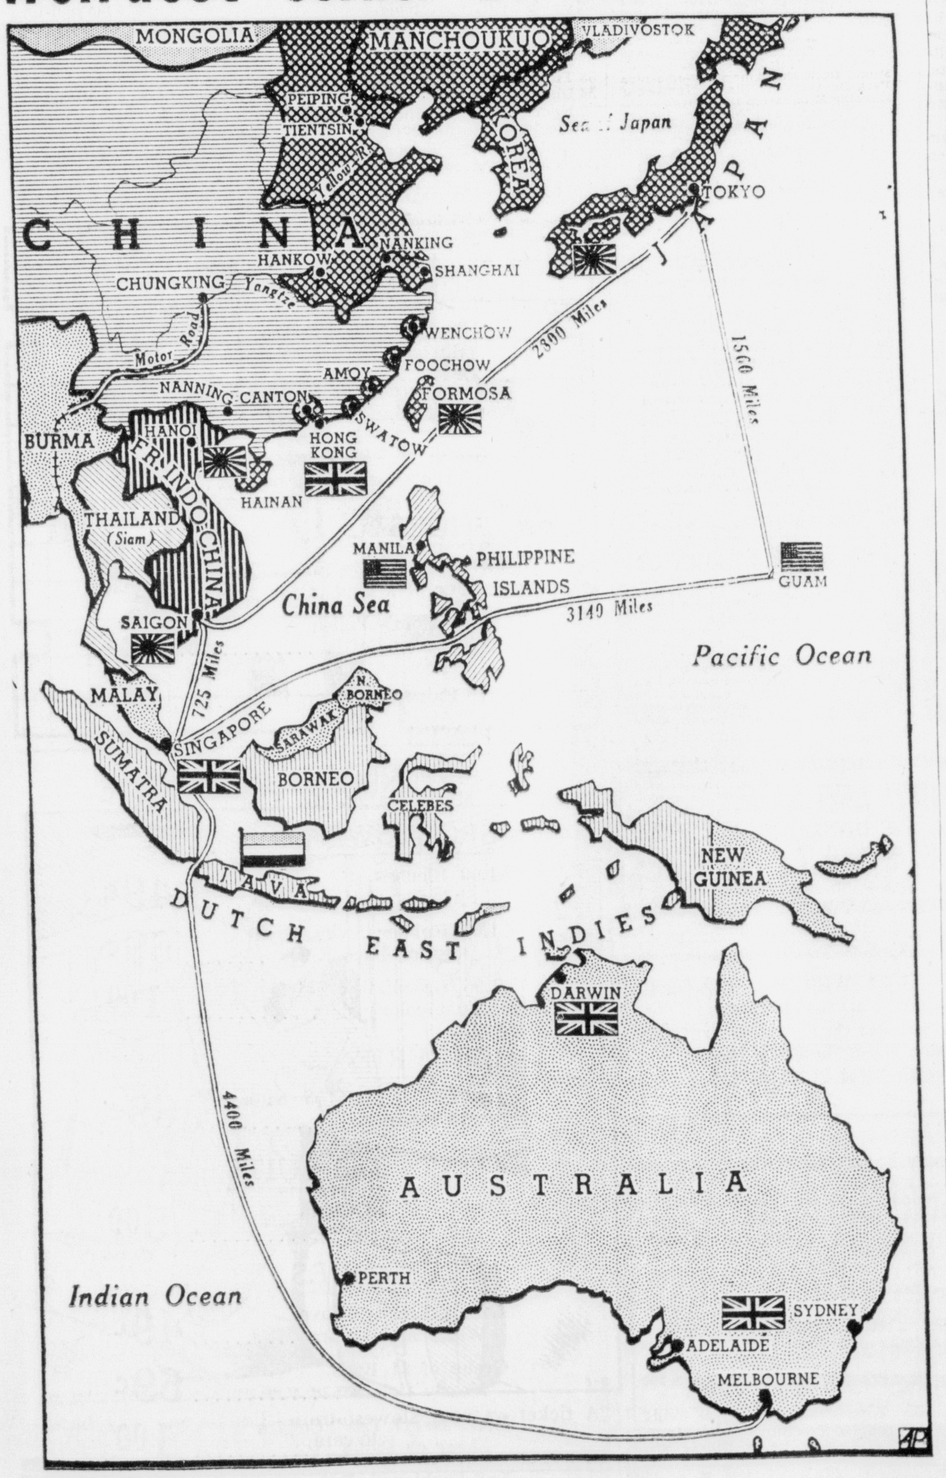

DEPENDS ON LOCATION

The storms known as hurricanes in the West Indies and South Pacific are known as typhoons off the east coast of Asia, cyclones in the Indian seas, and bagulos in the Philippines.

EXPLAINED

The moon, carrying with it a long, tapering shadow, passes between the earth and the sun 25 times in two years. The shadow passes above the North Pole 11 times, above the South Pole 11 times, but touches the earth only three times.

Will 'Shooting War' Spread Over Weirdest Corner Of The Earth?

AP Feature Service

Here is a region of superlatives. It has the deepest ocean (off the Philippines), the most colorful ruins (Angkor-Vat, Indo-China), some of the greatest wealth (of Burmese, Siamese princes), some of the greatest natural resources (Dutch and British East Indies, Australia), some of the most picturesque scenery (Japan), the strangest animals (the panda in China, 10-foot lizards in the East Indies), the most populated nation (China) on earth. The very vastness of the Far East sets it apart.

War—in the sense of actual fighting—has not yet spread to much of this area. Actual battles have taken place only in the Sino-Japanese war (this one started in 1937) and in border skirmishes between Russia and Japan, and between Indo-China and Thailand. But Japan's occupation of Indo-China and her calling up a million fresh soldiers was taken as such a threat by Australia, the United States and the Dutch East Indies that they immediately retaliated by freezing Japanese credits. Every nation in, or with interests in, the Orient, has long been strengthening its defenses.

Will expanding Japan—aligned by treaty with Germany and Italy (and, ironically with Russia)—be satisfied with her present position and sit tight? Will she attack Singapore? Will she attack the Dutch East Indies? Or will she march on Russia? And how will other nations answer Japan's next move?

PATTERN 4860

by ANNE ADAMS

Be an early bird and start daughter's back-to-school wardrobe now! Pattern 4860, an Anne Adams design, makes a fine beginning—it's so jaunty and simple to do with the Sewing Instructor's aid. The long slide-fastening or buttoning down the back eliminates any need for a side placket closing. The bloused bodice lines, so becoming to a young figure, are gathered below a deep, straight-across yoke. And the very full, very gathered skirt is shown with an inset waistband for neat lines. Add patch pockets for extra style, make short or long full sleeves, and have a round and collarless neckline or a Peter Pan collar. You might even let the entire blouse contrast for a smart effect. Order your pattern today!

Pattern 4860 is available in girls' sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14. Size 10 takes 3 yards 35 inch fabric.

Ludlow Lutherans Welcome Pastor and Wife at Reception

Ludlow, Aug. 1—Moriah Lutheran church was filled to capacity Wednesday evening when a reception was held in honor of the new pastor, Rev. Carl Gronquist, and his wife.

After the opening hymn, Scripture and prayer were given by Rev. H. N. Fahnstrom, of Wilcox, who has been supplying in this parish. The choir then sang "Rejoice".

Rev. Fahnstrom extended a welcome and conducted the following program: Vocal solo, "Hold Thou My Hand", Mrs. Emil Nelson; welcome by Student Victor Benson, of Kane; organ and piano duet, Mrs. Amelia Mattison and Mrs. Ramond Shaffer, playing "The Holy City"; welcome, Rev. W. W. Nyline, of Kane, and Rev. Ernest Peterson, of Ashtabula, O.; selection, "My Prayer", Lutheran Choir.

Little Kathryn Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson, in a welcoming speech to Mrs. Gronquist, presented her with a beautiful bouquet of red roses. Enoch O. Nelson, member of the board of trustees, presented the new pastor with a purse of money. The Gronquists expressed their thanks to all and their hopes for a successful pastorate.

After the closing hymn and benediction, refreshments were served.

MRS. LATHAM
Relishes Every Bite

"I pinch myself sometimes," she told me. "I can't believe it."

Bundles for Britain rapidly expanded its activities and its network of branches grew with amazing speed. Today its officials estimate that it has sent Great Britain $2,000,000 worth of sox, helmets, surgical kits, ambulances, oxygen tents, hospital beds, clothing and shoes.

In the middle of the New York headquarters, with a finger in every pie, sits Mrs. Latham. But she doesn't sit long. She cuts short her high-voiced telephone directions to fly down the hall to another office. Dashes about with a long yellow pad on which she is constantly writing notes. Rushes off here and there to make speeches. Takes off for Washington or Philadelphia on ten minutes' notice with a nightdress packed in a knitting bag.

She drives herself like a dynamo all day and then goes home to her simple East Side apartment to have dinner in bed, while the children hang on the bedposts and tell her the day's news. Long after they are asleep she is poring over those everlasting notes, scribbling things to be done tomorrow, thinking up new ideas. And she draws no pay.

It's a far cry from the day when she made her debute at Sherry's, danced with a lot of admiring beaux and flirted with Prince Nicholas, son of Queen Marie of Rumania.

The pace quenches even her great fund of energy sometimes. Twice her office staff has had to send her to a hospital to rest. But she is back in a few days.

Soon she will add a new activity—Bundles for Blue Jackets—in aid of sailors on American and British warships. She already has looked forward to the day when war ends. Then she hopes to see Bundles for Britain working for the reconstruction of places ravaged by war.

Mrs. Latham is a pretty, vivid woman of 30, with deep brown eyes and a gorgeous smile. She wears her long hair in a soft roll at the back of her neck and loves pretty, colorful clothes.

All this work leaves her little or no time for play. But she has one favorite recreation. She loves to go shopping in the basement of New York's largest department store.

FROM Hastings, Michigan, Miss L. P. writes to say, "Recently I saw in your column mention of a recording made by Charles Laughton about the rivers of the United States. I tried to get the record in Grand Rapids but was unsuccessful. Will you please tell me the name of the record and the company that makes it?"

That was a private recording, Miss P. It was made by the Columbia Broadcasting Company. They took it off the air during the actual broadcast and placed it in their library for reference. All broadcasting companies record important programs, but these recordings are never sold.

HERE are two notes with but a single thought...R. W. of Kansas City and B. E. H. of Coatesville, Pa., want to know about tickets to major broadcasts in the New York studios.

These tickets are free, but the waiting list is so long that it usually is advisable to place requests weeks ahead. If you plan to come to New York, I would advise writing at once to the Guest Relations Department of NBC, CBS, or MBS, New York City.

Most book publishers believe the prices of books will be up 25 per cent by Jan. 1st. . . . It's the rising cost of paper and other essentials that does it.

SHEFFIELD NEWCOMER GIVEN BRIDAL SHOWER

On Tuesday evening, members of the Young Woman's Missionary Society of the Bethany Lutheran church at Sheffield tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of Bertha C. Nelson, 312 West Main street, to compliment Mrs. Carl Gronquist, bride of the church's new minister. The couple were married at Galesburg, Ill., the latter part of June, just prior to Rev. Gronquist's assuming his new charge of Sheffield and Ludlow parishes.

The evening was spent in playing various games, with prizes going to Eunice Anderson, Helen Burgason, Mrs. Gronquist, Axeline Johnson, Mildred Johnson, Mae Magnuson and Florence Timm.

A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out at the luncheon tables, where a large bride formed the centerpiece and smaller brides were used as favors.

Class members present for the occasion were Ellen, Eunice and Martha Anderson, Josephine and Opal Benson, Alice Bramer, Helen Burgason, Evelyn Burlingame, Carrie, Edith and Mabel Carlson, Leona Dalton, Gertrude Engman, Alma, Adeline and Mildred Johnson, Eleanor Kirsch, Mildred Lubold, Madaline and Mae Magnuson, Bertha and Rose Nelson, Evelyn Norlin, Alice Rickenburg, Eva Saxton, Ruth Sowle and Florence Timm.

SHOWER HONORS RECENT NEWLYWED

Mrs. Thomas Eagan, 6 Kenmore street, entertained with a pleasant shower party at her home in compliment to Mrs. John S. Trax, a recent bride.

The honored guest was presented with a useful gift from the following: Ann Shepard, Vivian Hale, Mamie Hummerich, Mary Musante, Jean Snyder and the hostess.

EIGHT WAYS TO SAVE GAS

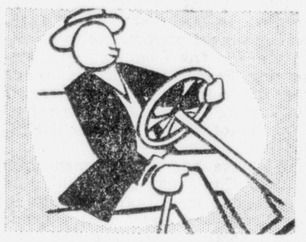

(And Still Another Way Is To Ride A Bicycle)

1. DRIVE at moderate speeds. Above 25 miles an hour a car makes fewer miles to the gallon.

2. ACCELERATE gently. Tramping on pedal sends more gas into carburetor than the motor can utilize.

3. DON'T ATTEMPT high speeds in second gear. Shift into high at 25 miles an hour—or sooner.

4. COAST to a gradual stop. Sudden stops are wasteful of gasoline, and usually unnecessary.

5. KEEP TIRES properly inflated. Under-inflation means more friction, more work for the motor.

6. TURN OFF the switch when you stop. An idling motor may be almost inaudible, but it uses gasoline.

7. KEEP SPARK PLUGS clean. Dirty plugs may mean a waste of 10 per cent of your gasoline.

8. DON'T OVERLOOK the importance of regular lubrication. A little oil and grease save a lot of gas.

WARREN GIRLS HURT
Two Warren girls were among seven persons injured Wednesday night when a car in which they were riding struck a culvert 4 miles south of Kearsarge on route 19. They are Betty Nuhfer, 10, of R. D. 1, Warren, who is in an Erie hospital with possible internal injuries and a hand laceration, and her sister, Ann Nuhfer, 9, who was discharged from the hospital after being treated for a lacerated right ear.

MAGAZINES ARRIVE
Due to the increased demand for the Good Housekeeping magazine here, caused by a special advertisement in the Times-Mirror, the Warren News Agency was unable to supply the demand here. However, a new supply of the August issue has been received and the magazine may be obtained at newsstands here, according to Jack Greenwald, proprietor, who expressed his apologies for the delay.

ARCHERS MEET
About 20 members of the Allegheny Archery Club of Warren and the National Forge Club at Irvine met last evening at the latter's range for an informal shoot lasting from seven until nine o'clock. Following a tour of the attractive club building, the Irvine women served a delicious lunch on the veranda. Seated at either end of the table were Lewis Haines, Warren president, and Glenn Patch, head of the host organization. Talk of archery and its tournaments occupied the remainder of the evening.

Opening—♥ Q. 1

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Our party arrived in San Francisco in time for the opening of the annual Pacific Bridge Week tournament. On our trip across the country, Waldemar von Zedtwitz and I naturally talked bridge a great deal. One of our main topics of conversation was the value of weak no trumps.

At the present time, the majority of experts believe an original no trump bid should be made only with a big hand. It is Von Zedtwitz' opinion, however, that this year will find a trend toward the more general use of the weak no trump.

His basic argument in favor of the weak no trump is it can show a hand with the required two to two and one-half tricks for an opening bid, but lacking a good suit bid. The one no trump bid also forces the opponents into the bidding at the range of two. As you can see from today's hand, it is sometimes difficult for the opponents to reach the right contract when they begin bidding at the two range.

In a recent duplicate game several East-West pairs found their game in hearts. One North-South pair doubled four hearts, which of course was made easily. Others went to four spades and were defeated two tricks.

At the only table where South opened with no trump, North's response of two spades discouraged East from starting to bid at three. North-South made a good stop at three spades, but even if South had bid three no trump and been set undoubled, his pair still would have scored top on the board.

4-H CLUB GIRLS COMPLETE CAMP AT CORNPLANTER

Sixty-five 4-H Club girls from Cameron, Elk, Forest, Jefferson and Warren counties returned to their homes Wednesday after a very enjoyable week spent at Camp Cornplanter.

Twenty of these girls were from Warren county: Mercedes Anderegg, Alice Firth, Bernice Lindell, Caroline Wilcox, Rebecca Williams, Leatrice Smith, Erma Hanson, Sue Mathis, Joyce Hornstrom, Eleanor Peters, Theresa Crull, Marian Westfall, Florence Hollabaugh, Betty Horton, Arlene Schuler, Norberta Stockton, Betty Jane Dodd, Leota Barrett, Gladys Thompson and Georgianna Valentine.

They were accompanied by Mrs. W. G. Lyon, local leader at Lander; Mrs. Lloyd Price, of Bear Lake, and Mrs. Thelma Prendergast, home economics representative.

Other members of the staff were Miss Isabel Myers, Hubert Snyder and Albert Zimmer, club work assistants from Pennsylvania State College; home economics representatives from the other counties, as well as a local leader from each of the other counties; also the permanent staff at the camp; Mr. Reneau, a nurse, a swimming instructor and a lifeguard.

Mrs. Prendergast was camp director for this year, with Miss Ida Peebles, Forest county, in charge of registration, and Miss Regina Wingaris, of Cameron and Elk counties, in charge of the dining room and handcraft. Mr. Zimmer was a popular leader of singing and musical games and Mr. Snyder conducted nature study groups and assisted with other group activities. Each local leader assisted in some phase of the work done.

Very interesting programs were planned for the days at camp. Due to the extreme heat, the Sunday program was changed to allow extra time for swimming, and that evening, the Glade Sunbonnet Girls presented their flag drill as a part of the vespers. Mr. Reneau gave a fine address on "I Went to Camp and Found God".

Vespers on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings were planned under the guidance of Mrs. Prendergast and Mrs. Price. Campfire programs on Monday and Tuesday evenings were under the direction of Miss Myers and Mr. Zimmer, the former taking its theme from a hobo party and providing many clever costumes and stunts. The Tuesday campfire featured a shipwreck party and a variety of talent was exhibited. Warren county girls put on two numbers for this program, a skit by Gladys Thompson, Norberta Stockton and Erma Hanson and some western songs in which the entire Warren county group joined.

The climax of the week's activities was an impressive candlelighting service held on Tuesday evening.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Times-Mirror,
Dear Sir:

Filling-station operators and others whose employes wear uniforms should be warned that they may be solicited by traveling salesmen to purchase uniforms and pay a substantial amount before delivery. The National Better Business Bureau warns that certain men are reaping a harvest in this game, although they do not represent any manufacturing company and no uniforms are ever delivered. Caution is advised.

Business executives may be approached to purchase "genuine oil paintings and water colors" which are being offered by a man claiming to be a member of the Royal Society of Painters and Water-Colours of London. Apparently he is working westward and has been operating in Buffalo.

H. W. CORRELL, Secretary,
Warren Chamber of Commerce.

R. H. Beebe
1501 Pa. Ave., E.
Warren, Pa.
7-24-41.

To the Editor of the Times Mirror.

I have read the letter from a Mr. John C. Bengtson, who signs himself Chairman Warren County Ministerial Association, about the life, and habits that were apt to be contracted by the men in our Army Camps, and the U. S. Navy.

It seems that this, and many more people think it is entirely up to them to keep these men away from EVIL, collecting FUNDS to do this trick, making it easy for him to keep decent, and good, keeping him on the right road, instead of taking a chance of him making the wrong turn, and getting into bad company, and going STRAIGHT to HELL.

I was wondering, if this Mr. Bengtson had ever been either in an Army Camp, or a Navy Yard, or Ship? or, we may say even had any conversation either with a Soldier, or Sailor, it has always seemed to me, that when there was any need of someone to do the caring for the Country, and preserving Peace, and all the things that go to making the Country fit to live in, it must be some one, that is not afraid to go to HELL for that.

We have had several men even in this City, that I thought was really good men, that had been in the Army, and Navy, that had not been spoiled, or traveled the wrong road. I had the pleasure of knowing the late Col. F. Windsor, had many pleasureable talks with him, and considered it a favor for that. Believing I had known a GENTLEMAN, as well as a SOLDIER, we also have the men of the American Legion, and the V. F. W. all in this City. I am of the opinion that the talk of this going bad by the young men of these days is a SLAP at any of us.

I have served in both these branches of the Service, and have been a resident of your fair City for about (15) years, and I think I have at least been a decent CITIZEN.

There is not much I would not do to help with the comfort of a Soldier, or Sailor at any time I could do just that, but I am of the opinion that regardless of WHERE a MAN may be, should it be in him?, he needs nothing to keep him straight, trusting this will help greatly to keep down the FEELING that the Army, or Navy is the Greatest place in the WORLD to get BAD I am.

Yours very respectfully,
R. H. BEEBE.

watch milk as it pours from a bottle

Ever watch Milk pour from a Bottle?
That shows why your milk needs STERILIZED Sealright Hoods to protect the vital pouring zone

Watch Milk as it pours from a bottle! It curls around the lip before it goes into your glass. That's why this vital pouring area must be kept absolutely clean—free from handling. That's why hundreds of modern dairies now seal their milk bottles with Sterilized Sealright Hoods!

Tamperproof—yet easy to remove—Sealright Hoods are made entirely of special waterproof paper, and sterilized as they are heat-sealed automatically on the milk bottles at the dairy. This scientific improvement in milk packaging protects your family's health. It means that your milk reaches you with its "dairy-purity" guarded—regardless of exposure or handling between the dairy and your home.

Drink More Milk—and patronize dairies that protect you. Look for the Sealright Hood on your milk bottle. It is easy to identify. The Sealright Symbol on the hood—like the famous Sealright Sanitary Service Emblem—is the mark of sanitary food packaging!

Our Sealright Hoods keep Bottle tops clean

Milk bottles must be handled during delivery—if the purity of milk is to be preserved from the dairy to you, as the ad on Page 45 of this week's Collier's says, it is essential to keep the pouring lip of the milk bottle completely protected. This vital area must be kept free from handling or exposure.

We are pleased to provide patrons of this dairy with Sealright Hood Protection — the last word in Sanitary Milk Packaging.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—To a good many citizens hereabouts, the most important purveyor of South American rhythms in this section is Adolfo Roquellas, known more familiarly to the public as Pancho.

Pancho, who seemed for awhile to have been born almost 15 years too soon, rattled his maracas virtually unheeded through the latter years of Prohibition (they were playing jazz then and singing "I'm looking at the world through rose-colored glasses"—remember?) and on through the latter years of the Thirties until, eventually, national thought and the South American way finally pulled abreast of him.

He never played Latin music exclusively, and for this reason he was always able—even if behind a polite grimace—to oblige with a little of "Button Up Your Overcoat" when he would rather have been playing something rhythmic and swivel-hipped about a sloe-eyed Peruvian belle.

I suppose you can get an argumen when you claim anything is first, but if any other maestro on the current scene has had more to do with the slow but steady wave of Latin appreciation in popular music in this country, I would like to know his name.

PANCHO is thin and slight with features that even might be called delicate. He was kicked bodily out of his house in Buenos Aires by an irate father who could not share his heir's enthusiasm for life in the dance casinos of Los Estados Unidos.

There are those who claim that you can do all right by yourself if you can build a better mousetrap, and, in a sense, this is what our outcast did. He built a better tango and won $10,000 in prize money from a steamship company that was launching a new luxury liner and drumming up enthusiasm by a South American-wide tango-composing contest.

Staggering under this bale of folding money, Pancho hurried to New York and organized his own orchestra and soon thereafter was ensconced in the Embassy club, famed during Prohibition, and for a while later, as a place where people loved to spend money.

THAT was a long time ago, and Pancho made the days hum by rippling off scores of rhumbas, waltzes, tangos and other rhythmic lullabies. When he is of a mind, his fiddle is active. He plays "Liebestraum" more satisfactorily to me than any other orchestra. When Veloz and Yolanda gave their great dance concert at Carnegie Hall, it was Pancho who played.

This, in part, is why I say "Pancho" to people who ask for a preference in South American music, and it is the reason, too, on warm summer nights, that I sometimes ride out to Ben Marden's Riviera, where Pancho is playing through the summer, and sit through an evening of his rhythms.

The closest thing to a matinee idol in the theater this season seems to be Dick Waring (no kin to Fred), who plays the role of a Welsh coal miner in "The Corn Is Green."

Yankees Continue Hot Pace With Twin Win Over Tigers

...uccos And Red...gs ...eating Fast Tempo; ...dians Rained Out

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers may have their shortcomings, but they aren't lacking in determination.

They were backed up against the wall yesterday, tottering, ready for a kill by St. Louis, but they bounced back with a 15-hit assault, including three homers, to trounce the Cardinals, 9-5.

This left the National League race in the chaotic state as when the two rivals first came together Tuesday. The Redbirds still have a two-game lead.

In spite of the robust hitting by the Dodgers, their hero was ponderous old Fred Fitzsimmons, who pitched six innings in relief and held the Cards to three hits. These included a homer by Terry Moore and a triple and a double by Jimmy Brown, but they were well insulated and ignited nothing.

The New York Yankees took a tighter grip on the American League lead, meanwhile, by sweeping a double-header from the Detroit Tigers, 6-3 and 5-0.

Charley Keller hit his 26th home run with two on in the 13th inning to win the first game. Darkness curtailed the second session to eight innings.

The speeding Philadelphia Athletics crushed the Chicago White Sox, 9-2, to take over fourth place, with Benny McCoy's grand-slam homer in the fourth providing the impetus. It was the first time in years the A's had been in the first division at this late date.

The Boston Red Sox divided a double-header with the St. Louis Browns. The first affair was a wild hitting demonstration with each team getting 14 safeties and St. Louis winning 16-11. Tex Hughson pitched six-hit ball to give Boston the nightcap, 4-1.

Cleveland and Washington were rained out.

In the National League, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the New York Giants, 6-5, on Chuck Aleno's pinch-single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning, scoring two runs.

Pittsburgh managed to keep right behind by nosing out the Boston Braves, 9-8, in a free-hitting spectacle. The Pirates made 16 hits and scored all their runs in the first six stanzas. Then the Braves went to work and tallied seven runs in the last two innings, falling one marker short.

The Phillies crushed the Chicago Cubs again, 7-2, backing up John Podgajny's six-hit hurling with a 13-hit offensive of their own.

MANY ENTRIES RECEIVED FOR AMATEUR PLAY

New York, Aug. 1—(AP)—Entries close late today for the U. S. Golf Association's annual amateur championship, and, this far in advance, it already is shaping into a free-for-all fight for the title won last year by Dick Chapman, now an athletic instructor at an army air field in Alabama.

Little has been heard from Chapman for the past two months, but some of his more prominent rivals have been hitting the ball well enough to get it noised about generally. In addition there are a few up-and-coming youngsters who may be in the thick of the battle August 25-30 at the Omaha Field Club.

Chief among these are 18-year-old Frank Stranahan, of Toledo, Ohio, and 19-year-old Mario Gonzales, the slender Brazilian. Stranahan this year has won the Ohio and Trans-Mississippi championships, and has the solid support of Byron Nelson, former Open and P. G. A. titleholder who is pro at Toledo.

Duff McCullough, the amiable Philadelphian who went to the finals last year, will be back for another shot at the title.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

Looking into the problem facing Coach J. B. Leidig, who will be starting his thirtieth year as grid mentor in Warren High School this fall, we are wondering just what the veteran athletic director will be able to present in the way of a football team to scholastic grid fans. The fact that Leidig has produced many fine teams in seasons past when a similar setup was before him holds confidence for followers of the Dragons. And, though the material will be inexperienced, a fair bunch of football players may be found in the candidates who will answer the call on August 25. As to whether Warren High will enjoy a good season or a poor one rests in the answers of many questions. First, will the youngsters putting forth their efforts be football players? Secondly, what kind of opposition will the local school boys have? And third, will the members of the team be a scrappy bunch or a "lukewarm" group of ball players? Playing under "Jake", though, you can bet that the latter question will be answered with the word "scrappy." And it's a fair bet that a good share of the candidates will have football in their blood and make a heady crew. The only question that can't be answered until the games start being played is that about good, only fair, or poor opposition. That can make the difference between a winning season and a losing campaign, though victories alone don't necessarily make a successful football season.

In the latest issue of the "Sporting News" a humorous story is told about Roy Cullenbine when he was playing on a Detroit sandlot team. It seems an old-timer approached him one day and told him that a couple of scouts were watching him in that day's game, and that they would like to meet Roy following the contest. Greatly inspired, Cullenbine played a great game, made four hits and some spectacular catches. When the game was over, he hurried to the section of the field where the scouts were supposdly waiting, and Roy's knees fairly buckled when he found his efforts had only provided an enjoyable afternoon for two twelve-year-old BOY SCOUTS!

Red Jackets Lay Plans For Fall; Will Carry Twenty-Two Players; Dr. Reese Named To Coach Outfit

It was a hot night to talk football, but a very successful meeting was held last night in the Times-Mirror editorial rooms to organize the Red Jackets, and when it had adjourned twenty-four names of tentative players, nine of which were present at the meeting, were on the list of candidates for the twenty-two berths that are open.

Various business was brought up during the session, and for pre-season expenses the Jackets may need a little money, but they have no financial worries pursuing them this year, as was the case in 1940.

Players present at last night's get-together were: Harold Brown, Tom Conway, Ernie Sedon, Walt Fredericks, Harry Rosequist, Frank Sirianni, Art McKeehan, Willard Zerbe and Bill Dove.

Besides these, Steve Massa, Gerry Bean, Dr. Reese, "Pete" Fanaritis and this paper's sports editor were in attendance.

Dr. "Chuck" Reese has been chosen to coach this season's outfit, and the former University of Pittsburgh line star should serve as a competent mentor.

Other players who tentatively have mentioned plans to try out for the squad, some of whom have definitely assured their services, are: Artie Amann, "Red" Hajnik, Harry Wooster, "Brud" Murphy, Frank Martines, and one of the DeSantis brothers, all of Jamestown; Norm Erickson, "Warnie" Check, Harold Sedon, Ken Whisner, Bob Jewell, "Tink" Wolfe, "Bunny" Wolfe, Bill Graham and Art Giancotti, who hails from Bradford.

Practice sessions are expected to get under way in the next couple of weeks, with shoes being passed out among players who are sure they can play, so that they can start conditioning.

Though Claude Schindler was not present at the meeting, it was decided to retain him as booking manager for the coming season, considering the fine job he turned in last season.

Another plan that this year's Jacket board will endeavor to make materialize is to squeeze more games into the short football season. A program of 13 contests is desired, meaning that the western Pennsylvania semi-pro grid champs will have to start play early in the season in order to play a busy program such as that would be.

A few road trips will be considered and possibly, if a portable lighting system can be imported into the community, one or two night skirmishes will be seen.

Sports Round-up

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Aug. 1—One of the yarns going around town is that Fritzie Zivic was hitting too many high spots before bumping into Red Cochrane at Newark.....The war situation is going to hit southern schools harder than those up this way because more boys in Dixie small towns are members of the national guard....Only thing certain about the site of the Louis Nova bout is that Mike Jacobs will stage it where he figures he can make the most sugar....If that circus really wants Jack Dempsey it'll have to up its $3,000-per-week offer by exactly one grand....American League attendance (due in no small part to the DiMaggio streak and the spurt of the Yanks) is 200,000 ahead of last year's figure, but the moguls think it will slump from now on unless the race tightens up.

What Goes On Here?

Boy, it sure looked like a star-studded night down in San Juan, Puerto Rico, recently....Jack Dempsey knocked out Harry Wills and Lou Nova took a six-round decision from Billy Conn.....The fighters were preliminary boys who believe the adoption of famous names brings luck.

People And Things

Eddie Leonard, the veteran minstrel man who passed on the other day, was a regular at the Polo Grounds and Yankee Stadium for 40 years.....Fred Apostoli, now a boxing instructor at the Norfolk naval station, will resume fighting shortly under Harold Scadron's banner..Coach Tom Lieb is getting ready to close his California summer camp and get back on the job at U. of Florida....Those hoss players up in Canada sure are missing the form sheets which no longer can be imported from this side of the border....Tom Harmon's new job at station WJR in Detroit will be sports director, with a little broadcasting of football games on the side.....Last season Earl Mann predicted his Atlanta club would sell Slugger Lester Burge for $1,000 per homer and it looks like the kid may belt 40 this year.....Incidentally, Bill Terry is going to Atlanta soon to see if second-baseman Connie Ryan is worth the $25,000 and two players the Crackers want for him.

Today's Guest Star

H. V. Wade, Detroit News: "A little more of this sort of baseball and the rest of the league will begin to think of our Tigers as the loyal opposition."

Sports Cocktail

Dizzy Dean was roasted in Denver for collecting his $800 guarantee and leaving the ball park at the end of two innings when he had contracted to hurl three.... Johnny Paycheck, one of Joe Louis' victims, is seriously ill in Milwaukee...Johnny Ray and Billy Conn are so lonely in Hollywood they call up their Pittsburgh sports-writing pals two or three times a week just to say hello.... Squire Gene Sarazen has his Connecticut ranch operating in the black, with a weekly revenue of $200 from the sale of milk alone. ...Duke's boxing coach, Add Warren, is so busy with a big stock farm in Delaware that he'll not return to Duke this year.....The 6,800 fans who saw Buddy Knox and Bob Sykes fight in Little Rock the other night set an all-time state record for a boxing match.

Business Note

The Yanks are breezing along like all get-up and the chances are they're definitely off the market. ...But Mr. Farley and his syndicate might do some business in St. Louis or Philadelphia, if they're still syndicating.

Warren, Jamestown Old Timers Expect Large Crowd Sunday

With the advance ticket sale moving steadily along, and all other preparations completed, everything is in readiness for a record crowd at Wilder Field, Irvine, Sunday afternoon, when the Jamestown and Warren Old Timers will cross bats for the third time, the proceeds going entirely to the United Service Organizations.

The battle will start at 2:30 o'clock over the regulation nine-inning route, as planned at this time.

Familiar faces of the best diamond ball in these parts of twenty years ago will return for a couple of hours Sunday, and it is anticipated that many veteran fans will make an extra effort to be on hand to watch the Old Timers play.

As he did in Jamestown last Saturday night, "Pike" Peterson, if he can possibly play with the team Sunday, will treat the fans to one of his inimitable juggling exhibitions.

"Rabbit" Swanson will lend his humorous antics to the program, and his "horseplay" with the umpires undoubtedly will gain the applause of the crowd.

Tickets will be sold at down town places, various stores on the East, South and West sides of town, as well as in nearby surrounding communities. If any local fans haven't as yet purchased their ducats, this may be done along with the Saturday morning shopping tomorrow. Bright yellow signs in windows where advance tickets are sold will remind the paying public that thirty-five cents will give them an afternoon of entertainment and at the same time aid in building recreation centers for the soldiers now in camps.

Cardinals Pennant Bound, Southworth

St. Louis, Aug. 1—(AP)—If the Cardinals can dodge the injury jinx the rest of the season the club will win the National League pennant, says Manager Billy Southworth.

The team entered the Brooklyn series, which they split to retain their two game lead, with the lineup at full strength for the first time since opening day when Catcher Gus Mancuso was removed with a badly bruised and sprained finger.

"Barring further injuries the Cardinals will win the pennant," Southworth asserted. "It is only because of excellent replacements and because we've really played to win, that the club has stayed on top this long."

Some picture theatres have prolonged hours to attract workers on night shifts, the Department of Commerce says.

William Barrett, well known per 77-76½, December 79, much concerned while en route home from Oil City last night when he discovered another automobile following him. He got into his machine in the center of the city and after he reached the city line in the East End he discovered the follower, traveling without lights and extremely close to the rear of his car. Barrett stopped his machine and got out to investigate. He found to his amazement that a trailer attachment on his machine had in some manner become entangled with the bumper of another car and he was towing the "follower." He hurriedly summoned Oil City police to find whose auto he was towing.

MADE UP TO KILL

by Kelley Roos

YESTERDAY: After a lot of excitement, Green Apples has opened. Haila and Jeff have been walking the streets until the morning papers came out, and now they have discovered that the play is a hit. Little Carol, whose voice disappeared and came back just in time for her to play, is also a hit. And Eve North, the star, is mercilessly roasted.

Chapter Five

Poison

SOMEHOW it shocked me. I knew, of course, that Eve wasn't the actress that she had once been, that when her sparkling beauty had begun to fade her talent had oozed away with it, but I had never dreamed she would be received like this.

With every play in the last five years she had lost a little ground, but in Green Apples rock bottom had come up to hit her. Playing with her it was hard to tell if she were good or bad. She was so much the great lady, above all reproach or criticism, that you forgot to think about her acting. She herself took her talent so much for granted that you began to do the same.

I was sorry for Eve North. In spite of a star complex I had found her fine to work with, and once she had been a really great actress.

"Listen to this," Jeff was saying, "'Miss Haila Rogers gives a performance that is both delicate and charming.'"

"I am delicate! So delicate that I'm going right home to bed."

After gathering the papers together to show Carol, we paid our check and went out into the street. There were faint pink streaks in the dark sky and street lights and signboards were popping off. A few people hurried along dodging the spray of the sanitation truck that passed. We walked slowly and the pink light in the sky spread and grew and it was daylight when we reached my apartment. The elevator bell rang hollowly through the silent building when I pressed it, but no Jinx appeared.

"Let him sleep," Jeff said.

"Softie!"

We trudged up the six flights dragging our heels and resting at each landing. I felt above the ledge of the door for the key that Carol was to have left there. The ledge was smooth under my exploring fingers. Sleepily, I rattled the knob and the door swung open. Then I stepped back and reached for Jeff. There was a long thin man asleep on my studio couch.

"It's an overworked burglar," I whispered. "Should I scream or can you take care of him yourself?"

"Scream," Jeff said.

The man stood up. I guess he hadn't been asleep. He looked at me and I saw he had nice gray eyes and a sour looking mouth.

"Miss Haila Rogers?" he asked.

"Uh . . . yes. May I come in?"

"Come in," he said, not very graciously, "and sit down. I'm Peterson. Of the Homicide Bureau."

Questions?

"HOW do you do?" I said charmingly and sat down. Then I stood up again, gaping at him. "Of the what did you say?"

"Peterson," he repeated, "of the Homicide Bureau." He was looking at Jeff. "Who's this?"

"His name is Jeff Troy and he's a very dear friend of mine. And is it rude of me to want to know just how you got in here and what you're doing here and where is my roommate?"

"Sit down." To my surprise I sat down unprotesting. Jeff slouched on the arm of a chair and we waited. Peterson eyed us quietly. "You live here with Carol Blanton?"

"Yes. Or rather, she lives here with me. It's my apartment."

"You're both employed by Clinton Bowers in a play called Green Apples that opened last night at the Colony Theater?"

"Yes."

"How long have you known Miss Blanton?"

"Four, no, five weeks. Since the day we started to rehearse Green Apples."

"And how long has she been living here with you?"

"Five weeks."

"Since the first day you met here?" he grunted, giving me a quick look. "How come?"

"Because she hadn't any other place to live and because she was broke. I invited her to stay with me and she did."

"What do you know about her?"

"Nothing very much. She's a nice girl who wants to be an actress. Why? What's the matter with her?"

He went right on. "What about her private life? Where's her home and her family? Who are her friends?"

"She's from Salt Lake City and she hasn't any family, but she's never told me anything more than just that. And as far as I know she hasn't any friends in New York. Just some friends of mine whom she's met up here in the apartment and of course everyone in Green Apples."

"How long has she been in New York?"

"I don't know exactly. I think about six months."

"Six months? And she met any people?"

"That isn't hard to do," him. "Not when you live in nished room and eat in dru and spend your days around to casting offices."

"What about Lee Gray?" I frowned. "All right. about him?"

"He's a friend of hers he?"

"I don't know. If he never heard her speak of I've never met him."

Peterson rambled over window and stood jingli coins in his pocket and out at the morning. He suddenly.

"And you don't know who might want to kill her

I jumped up and then better of it and sank limpl into my chair. "To kill h said. My voice was such thing that it surprised me somebody tried to kill her

He nodded grimly. "And near made a good job of She collapsed in the elevat night and the doctor wh called discovered she had ful of poison. He notified we managed to get her to vue in time. She's going through."

Jeff spoke for the first "What was the poison?"

"Morphine."

"Where did she get it?"

"At the theater. Durin last act. It seems you got a in your play where ever drinks a toast. Well, that was when it happened. quarters says there was mor in the glass she drank out the other glasses were O.K.'

Jeff let out an explosive b "Poisoned on stage! God soned in front of a thousand ple and every one of them w ing it. Have you been ab trace the poison?"

Peterson scowled. "Trace phine? Not a chance. Every tor in the country keeps a s of it in his office, carries an supply in his bag. Every store has it. You can get it hundred different ways." turned to me. "You wo know anything about how morphine got in Miss Bla glass. I don't suppose."

Jeff said, before I could my mouth. "What do you about how it got there?"

Perhaps A Clue

PETERSON reached for tered hat that lay on th fee table and stuck it on the of his head. "What wou know? I wasn't there. Som who was there will have t me," he said pleasantly went out. The door clicked behind him and I heard his steps fading down the stair gave a long low whistle made as energetic a dive could muster for the teleph called Bellevue. Miss Carol ton's condition, they told me favorable.

"When can I see her? will she be able to leave?

Her condition was very able indeed, they said.

"But I want to know . . .

"Her condition . . ." bega white hospital voice. I hun in disgust and slid the across the desk. Suddenly membered how Carol had cla down the receiver when heard us the night before, re bered her face as she stood w ing Tommy and me in the way. It had been white drawn, not with illness nor the surprise of our being but white with anxiety and s thing very close to fear. And I knew. I grabbed Jeff by shoulders.

"Jeff, listen to me! I know Carol lost her voice, why would give up her first op night! It was because she afraid that something was to happen to her at the th and she wanted to stay awa

"Then why did she finally

"I suppose because we c her phoning and knew she all right. And if she had si refused to play she would lost her job. Oh, the poor fool! If she had only told us

Jeff frowned and shook head. "No, I don't think so. H If Carol really thought that s thing was going to happen to that her life was in danger a theater, I can't see her up walking straight into it, job job."

"But this isn't just a job. It's the start of a career. whole new life beginning fo A life in the theater."

"Not if it's going to end the night."

I walked aimlessly aroun room. "I wish I knew what i all about. One thing I do k Voices don't just snap off a like electric lights. You croak like a frog one minute talk in your ordinary voice next. I don't think there ever anything wrong with Ca I think she lost her voice s wouldn't have to go to the ter last night but could still her part later on. She d awfully well, but she could one swell little actress."

"I think I'd like to talk to Bowers about it. What time he get to his office?"

"About eleven usually." I "And just what do you t you're doing?"

He had yanked off his tie was unlacing his shoes.

No decision may be expected on an aditional lease-lend appropriation, the chief executive asserted, until Harry L. Hopkins returns to this country. Hopkins, lease-lend supervisor, now is in Moscow, after having visited London.

Mr. Roosevelt said the only word he had had from Hopkins since his arrival in the Russian capital was that he had got there safely.

Mr. Roosevelt would not say whether Hopkins might return by way of China.

To a question on how Hopkins got to Moscow, the president smilingly replied, on his own two feet.

The president did say that he hoped to get away early next week and go up the coast somewhere where at least the nights would be cool. He said he wanted a week off.

Atlantic City Boss Given Ten Years in Prison

The costs of the prosecution also were levied against him.

Johnson surrendered at once to the United States marshal.

During the court proceedings, the 58-year-old Johnson's bride of ten hours, the former Florence Osbeck, 35, remained in the Philadelphia hotel (Drake) where the couple went after the wedding, at which the jovial bridegroom advised his guests: "Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we may go to jail."

Accompanied by his attorney, Walter G. Winne, and a political lieutenant, James Boyd of Atlantic City, Johnson arrived at the Camden county court house, driving his convertible coupe.

Johnson was convicted last Friday on two counts of evading taxes on an income of $124,000 in 1936 and 1937. The government contended, and Johnson admitted, the income was derived mostly from numbers game operators in the resort.

Yesterday, only a few hours before his wedding, he was denied a new trial.

But last night the jovial man who has bossed Republican politics 33 years in the shore resort, worried only about whether his guests were enjoying themselves.

He and Miss Osbeck were married at the First Presbyterian church in Atlantic City, then he was host to hundreds of his followers at his 20-room bungalow, where they ate, drank and were merry.

Extension Bill Still Retarded

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—Congress, immersed in argument and still far from a decision, today passed the army high command's urgent deadline for action on legislation extending the service of Selectees, Reservists and National Guardsmen.

In the Senate, where debate was in its third day, Senators Clark (D-Mo) and Vandenberg (R-Mich) kept up the attacks of a vocal opposition group by charging that to pass the bill would be to make the men in uniform liable to military service "for life."

Administration leaders, however, manifested unshaken confidence that they commanded ample votes for a two-to-one victory on the final showdown which they hoped for some time next week.

The House has yet to take up the measure and, while leaders there were equally confident, some others predicted that it would find a rough they thought changes might even road. Several representatives said be made, necessitating a joint House-Senate conference committee to work out a final compromise.

The situation, it was generally agreed, made it certain that final disposition of the legislation would be delayed well beyond the Aug. 1 deadline fixed by General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.

Ships Detained In Coast Ports

U. S. marshals went aboard the Tatuta Maru and the Heian Maru yesterday with orders to prevent any attempt to sail. New York importers had filed claims for the cargo, which they said were already paid for.

Aboard the Tatuta Maru was a $2,500,000 cargo of raw silk, which the ship arranged to carry back to Japan. Stowed beneath these 5,588 bales were such goods as tea, furs, egg yolks, albumen and straw braid.

A $15,000 libel suit was first filed against the cargo by Arnhold & Co., New York City, and a $30,000 bond was demanded.

Other actions followed quickly. There was the question of how the Japanese could raise the money in any year, and to divide this quantity among various producing areas under a quota system. By increasing or reducing the quotas, it usually is able to influence prices.

When it became evident that consumers were buying far beyond their current needs, the department increased the quotas. It hoped this action would at least halt the advance.

The department figured wrong. Prices kept going up. Again it increased the quotas. Further advances followed. A third, and very large increase was made in this week. Marketings under increased quotas are expect total 7,627,563 tons, or abo 000,000 tons more than was sumed last year.

GOOD NEWS FOR AUSTIN

Austin, Aug. 1—(AP)—Hope was renewed here today that Austin may be lifted from the "ghost town" class when a bid for its lone industrial plant was offered by a firm with plans for reviving operations.

Judge Robert Lewis, after opening sealed bids, announced the high bidder was Van Alstyne, Noel and Company, New York investment firm acting as an agent, which proposed to start up the Bayless Pulp and Paper Company. The offer was $170,000.

The once-prosperous paper mill was shut down last September, and had been in the hands of a receiver since 1933.

quarters devoted only two sentences to the whole war with Soviet Russia. It said:

"Battles on the east front continue to develop in our favor.

"Warplanes last night bombarded military objectives in Moscow."

The impression that things are moving to suit the German High Command in the Leningrad sector was bolstered by an announcement by DNB, official German news agency, that a Russian regiment had been wiped out on the narrow strip of land between Lake Peipus and the Baltic while guarding that approach to the city.

Nazi editors, commenting on Russian and British assertions that the German offensive had bogged down, adopted a "wait and see!" attitude.

The authoritative commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland, answering foreign reports that the Nazi forces had not been making much speed lately, declared that more important than winning ground at this stage were the losses being inflicted on the Russian army in both equipment and manpower.

Dienst observed, however, that in 40 days of war in the east the Germans conquered more territory than they seized in 45 days in the west—in fact, it said, territory already occupied by the eastern armies is three times the size of England and northern Ireland.

Information in morning papers concerning developments in the vital Smolensk sector was limited to a DNB report that two Russian regiments recently arrived from Siberia had been annihilated south of Vyazma, which is only about 130 miles west of Moscow.

The agency also reported that the Russians had lost 112 airplanes during the past 24 hours under the smashing blows of the luftwaffe.

Moscow Statement

interview with Premier Joseph Stalin and later said his conviction that Hitler is going to lose the war had been strengthened.

He told American correspondents: "I have nothing to add to what I said the other day than that my short visit here has given me even more confidence that Hitler is going to lose."

German planes made their eighth nightly foray in 11 nights against Moscow and, as on previous nights, Russians said they were forced back.

It was the second raid against the capital since Hopkins' arrival but the American slept through the air alarm in Spaso House.

Russians claimed victories over sea and land for their planes, saying one flight of dive-bombers attacked two German patrol ships in the Baltic and brought down 15 German planes to eight Soviet losses.

S. A. Lozovsky, vice commissar of foreign affairs, told a press conference that Hopkins' visit "demonstrates once more the determination of the United States to help all peoples fighting for their independence against Nazi barbarism."

Truck Measure Awaits Action by Gov. James

cluding one to give the secretary of internal affairs control over expenditure of money, and jobs in his department, and another appropriating $20,000 for lease of land for the Susquehanna tribe of Indians—which James said had been extinct for 166 years, according to historical commission records.

Earlier in the week James had vetoed other measures to finance restoration of various historical landmarks.

Other developments in the capital included:

1. A sharp expansion of business in Pennsylvania during June followed the lead of heavy industries working on defense orders, said Lewis G. Hines, secretary of labor and industry.

2. WPA national defense training courses, formerly open to men only, were extended to include women by new order of Col. Philip Mathews, state WPA administrator.

3. Milk control commission increased milk retail price from 12 to 13 cents a quart in Erie district.

CONSOLIDATION OF ROYAL PLANT DISCUSSED HERE

At a meeting of a committee from the Warren Chamber of Commerce with officials of the Royal Manufacturing Company, which mainttins a plant on the former Superior Oil Company property here, a proposal for bringing other units of the company here was discussed, although no definite action was taken.

The meeting was held at the Y. W. C. A. following a luncheon this noon.

The Royal Manufacturing Company, which refines white mineral oils for medicinal use, now maintains plants in Duquesne, Chicago and Brooklyn. It is proposed to centralize the industry in one plant here.

If the proposal were carried out, it was stated, approximately 150 persons would be employed here. About 90 per cent of these would be women, according to company officials.

Representing the manufacturers at the meeting was Kolomon Kovacs, president, and several members of the board of directors, who are holding their annual meeting here at the present time.

East Hickory

East Hickory, July 30—Walter Glenn Gesin, son of Mrs. Garnett Gesin, who had been employed as chemist in the laboratory of the Carnegie Illinois Steel Works at Pittsburgh since his graduation from Edinboro State Teachers' College last June, enlisted Tuesday at Erie in the Air Corps as instructor and left Saturday from Pittsburgh for New Cumberland, Pa., in charge of a party of others who had enlisted. After receiving his uniform there, he will entrain for the Jefferson Barracks in Missouri. His mother spent Saturday with him at Pittsburgh, before he left the city. Charles E. Crider, Jr., Mrs. I. M. Fox and Mrs. C. E. Crider, met Walter in Erie, when he took his examination there.

Mrs. Sara Morse, Billy Amsler, of Erie, and Mrs. Amy Riche, of Corry, were weekend guests at the Kribbs home.

Miss Eleween Anderson, who is in training as children's nurse at Homewood Hospital at Philadelphia, called on friends here recently.

Mrs. Roy Matha and children, who have spent three weeks at the home of Mrs. Mary Matha, has returned to her home in Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Grubbs attended evangelistic services at Pine Ridge Sunday afternoon, and at Pleasantville Camp Grounds Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kent, of Ravenna, Ohio, spent the weekend at the Dickey cottage.

Mr. Hultquist and Mrs. Zelma Messenger of Warren were at the Ferguson home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kitelinger of West Hickory, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hurd and children attended a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Black at Bradford, Saturday evening. Mrs. Hurd's mother who was present returned for a further visit with the Hurd family here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, John Carpenter, Mrs. Hilda Wright, Mrs. Henderson and son Rex were among others from here who attended the Old Home day at Kellettville, Saturday.

Walter Wilson, of Sharon and Miss Anna Mae Neal, of Cresson, were over Sunday visitors at the Goodwill home.

Miss Pauline Goodwill is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. John Smith at Reno.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Dingman were at Cooksburg for the week end at the home of Mrs. Dingman's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward. They were present Sunday at the Cook reunion held at Cooksburg.

Rex Henderson, who has been visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. F. J. Henderson, has returned to New York City. He was formerly one of the electricians on the U. S. S. America which was taken by the government later for transport and navy work.

STAHLNECKER HEADS REPUBLICAN FACTION

Harrisburg, Aug. 1—(AP)—P. Stephen Stahlnecker, prominent in Pennsylvania Republican politics for many years, announced today the organization of a group of Republicans to make "a determined and sincere effort to revitalize the Republican party in Pennsylvania."

Stahlnecker, who managed the primary campaign in 1938 of Gifford Pinchot in his bid for a third term as governor, said he resigned his position as chairman of the unemployment compensation board of review for the purpose of joining the group. Stahlnecker's resignation became effective today.

WAGE DIFFERENTIALS ELIMINATION REFUSED

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1—(AP)—Elimination of wage differentials between workers in northern and southern plants of the Aluminum Company of America was refused last night by company officials conferring with leaders of the CIO-Aluminum Workers of America.

After appealing to Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Managament, to intervene in the dispute, N. A. Zonarich, union president, said Hillman called him and the union committee to Washington.

At the lengthy conference with company officials, Zonarich said men doing the same work at Badin, N. C., and Alcoa, Tenn., received from 3 to 18 cents an hour less pay than workers in the company's New Kensington plant.

The company's stand, presented by M. M. Anderson, personnel director, was that the common labor hiring rate in the two southern cities is 55 cents an hour and that the firm "will continue to pay the prevailing wage rate or better."

YOUNGSTERS AT PLEASING PICNIC AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, July 31—Members of the Cradle Roll, Beginners and Primary departments of the Methodist church school and their mothers had a very delightful picnic on Island Park Wednesday afternoon. About fifty kiddies and their parents were present and the youngsters had a merry time with games, a peanut hunt and balloon blowing contest. Miss Lois May Sellin and Betty Jo Zeliff had charge of the children's games. The picnic luncheon was a real treat, closing with ice cream and delicious home made cakes.

SUNSHINE CLUB

The Sunshine Club held their annual picnic on Island Park on Wednesday, when the birthday of Mrs. Ida Henton was remembered. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Ethel Tulley.

AT U. B. CHURCH

The official board of the United Brethren church met at the church on Wednesday evening. Plans were discussed for the coming Sunday school picnic on Island Park.

The election of officers for the church and Sunday school will take place during the church service Sunday morning. During this summer the evening services are being held in the basement, which is much cooler than the auditorium of the church.

A game between the Men's Brotherhood of Warren United Brethren church and the Men's Brotherhood of the local church was scheduled for Thursday afternoon on Island Park.

RAILS MAINTAIN A STRONG FRONT

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Rails managed to maintain a firm front in today's stock market but leading industrials were shaky.

Hesitancy prevailed at the start and, near the final hour, losses of fractions were widespread. There was a handful of wider declines. Offerings were notably light and transfers for the full proceedings were at the rate of approximately 500,000 shares.

NEW YORK DAIRY

New York, Aug. 1—(AP)—Eggs 11,752; steady. Mixed colors: Fancy to extra fancy 28¾-33; extra 28½; storage packed firsts 27¾-28; graded firsts 27; mediums 25½; dirties No. 1, 25; average checks 23¾-24.

Browns: Nearby and midwestern fancy to extra fancy 31-40; specials 30½; standards 28½-29; mediums 30½-31.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Aug. 1—(AP)—Although corn prices advanced more than two cents at the opening due to increased asking prices on government stocks, wheat continued to decline. Evening up sales in the wheat pit and expectations of a large spring crop estimate later in the day accounted for some of the weakness.

Opening unchanged to ¼ higher, September 1.06¼-⅛, December 1.08¼-⅛, wheat later reacted. Corn was ¼-2¼ higher, September 11-76½, December 79.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

ing of gasoline consumption and a spokesman for Pennsylvania retail dealers predicted rationing would be inaugurated within a month.

The Keystone State has 14,031 stations and Bernard Jacoby, head of the Associated Petroleum Dealers of Philadelphia and vicinity and vice president of the Pennsylvania Petroleum Dealers Association, said some dependent chiefly on night sales may have to go out of business.

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. today notified its eastern division managers to close all company-owned and operated service stations in the 13 Atlantic coast states from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m., beginning Sunday, as requested by Petroleum Coordinator Harold Ickes.

"With respect to other stations selling Socony-Vacuum products but not operated by this company," the notice added, "we have of course no control. We are confident, however, that these stations also will cooperate with the coordinator's restrictions."

WALLACE BROADCASTS TALK FROM THE WEST

Burlington, Ia., Aug. 1—(AP)—The preservation of liberty depends on the United States and "we shall not fail," Vice President Wallace declared last night.

In an internationally broadcast address climaxing the formal opening of the $50,000,000 ordnance plant here, the Iowan said "only by developing our might to the utmost, only by demonstrating through every action and attitude that we are completely willing to go to war if necessary, is there any chance for that peace which we so earnestly desire."

WEST POINT IS GIVEN TUMULTUOUS WELCOME

New York, Aug. 1—(AP)—The U. S. Navy transport West Point, docked with 388 passengers, mostly consular service employes, shortly before noon (EST) today amid scenese reminiscent of the first returns of World War soldiers.

Approximately 2,400 relatives and friends lined the pier as the huge camouflaged ship was tied up and a tumultuous cheer arose as soon as those on board were allowed on the pier, embraces mingled with joyful tears reminded observers of early 1919 when returning World War veterans received a like greeting.

MISSIONARY TO BE SPEAKER IN WARREN CHURCH

Through the courtesy and cooperation of the board of foreign missions of the Augustana Synod, the people of Warren are to have an opportunity to hear Miss Esther Olson, who will speak at the St. Paul's Lutheran church on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Olson is one of 19 missionaries of the Augustana Synod en route to African mission fields on board the ship ZamZam when it was fired upon and sunk by a German raider on May 19, this year.

Many denominations were represented in the 180 missionaries aboard, and Miss Olson's story of their rescue, various experiences and final return to America after 40 days as prisoners will be of great interest to many.

Her home is in Jamestown, N. Y., and she is said to be an interesting and most charming speaker, heartily received in her speaking engagements since returning to America on June 30.

All members and friends of St. Paul's church are cordially invited to attend this service.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dinsmore of Corry, Mr. and Mrs. Walton St. John of Lock Haven, Mr. and Mrs. Vanepps of Falconer, were Sunday callers at the St. John home.

Mrs. Ellen Hawkins, Miss Edith Hawkins and Mrs. Mrs. Ethel Bond were guests of relatives in Mayville on Thursday.

Miss Anona Philips of Jamestown, and Mrs. Marion Daniels of Niobe, were recent guests at the home of Mrs. Ellen Hawkins.

Mrs. Ethna Crowe and son Martin are enjoying their vacation on the eastern shore of Chautauqua Lake.

Mrs. Leon Cable is attending the post office during the absence of the postmistress.

Right now, REA figures that by temporarily sidetracking some of its planned distribution systems and going in for more generating systems it can relieve power shortage tremendously. One of its ideas is for a whole system of connected plants in and around Arkansas, to furnish power for greater production of aluminum—most critically needed defense material.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Ray Milland was studying Spanish on the set. "I just like languages," he explained. Besides English, he speaks French and his native Welsh. Used to know German and Italian but has forgotten them.

Obligingly, he addressed a few sentences to me in Welsh, a tongue which, with due apologies to those interested, these untrained ears found similar to double-talk on a sound track played in reverse.

We talked about Greek, Russian, and Japanese.

"Japanese," said scholar Milland. "There's a language! It doesn't sound like one. Sounds like birds talking."

Then he said something else in Welsh. It wasn't "hut sut on the rillerah," but it might have been for all I knew. . . .

There's a great novelty movie waiting to be made by some producer—just a movie about Singapore minus a shady lady. If it's not Dietrich haunting the waterfront or the jungle, it's somebody else—like Brenda Marshall in "Singapore Woman." Now they've got that nice gal, good actress Florence Rice doing it as "The Blonde From Singapore." . . .

Metzger-Wright's has served Warren fairly and equitably for 45 years. Much of that time we have been furriers. We were not only Warren's first furriers (back in the gay days of capes and stoles)—we have been Warren's only continuous furriers. We know furs with knowledge of long experience. That's why we say, "Our label is your assurance." We do NOT make extravagant and wholly unjustified claims regarding individual furs. We DO stand squarely behind every coat we sell. We are short on conversation—long on performance.

We bought our furs early, anticipating a rising market. We own them today—and you may buy them—at from 15% to 25% lower than the current market prices; and perhaps an even higher percentage below the probable prices in October and November. There is also the possibility of a Luxury Tax on furs. Therefore we unhesitatingly advise you to buy NOW—and to buy from Metzger-Wright's.
